Bigger & Better

1. Whether tall or small, Balers are "Bigger and Better".

2. Posters, such as this one which hung in the main hall during football season, express the school spirit demonstrated on campus this year.

← This is my altered ego!

3. With his impressive weight-lifting feat, Robert Galvan proves Balers are bigger and better.

Is there something at our school that reminds you of an airport? A bus station? A space station, maybe? Just think . . . the library . . . tiny lockers . . . solar heating panels . . . can you think of anything else? Speed bumps were put in the parking lot not only to slow down traffic, but also to make the search for parking space more exciting (and annoying) for student drivers. The crosswalk was freshly painted twice as wide as before, so students could get to their classes across the street with less crowding and not be late every day.

We also had new classrooms added to accommodate the larger-than-ever student body of over 1,650 people, along with 22 new teachers to educate all of us.

Looking at all these changes we have, how can we grow bigger? We hope everyone attending SBJUHS had a fantastic teacher, be it freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior. And remember — Balers are not only bigger and better, we're Number One!!

Oye chica!
Well this marks another end to a school year. I enjoyed having you in Spanish I. Have a wicked summer and keep on singing!
Love Insoo

Picture a place where you can actually see wacky scenes starring students at San Benito High School. A place where people look like nerds; a place where students dress for the beach on a cold winter's day.

The school halls were filled with craziness, bringing out a light atmosphere during homecoming week. The most visible type of craziness was the clothes modeled by students. Multi-colored punk rock hairstyles were the "in" look during spirit week.

Julia Hyun, Rally Club president, says, "People don't realize that it takes a lot of time and hard work to put together a really successful rally." The spirit leaders like to do their part by getting people's spirits up so they won't be afraid to get involved. You can do your part by getting involved and showing that you care.

So next time you see some nerd knocking your books out of your hands, don't panic. Just get involved and turn on your own Baler Spirit!

Baler Spirit!

What in the world do students do when they aren't hard at work in class? After all, school is the place we go to study and learn wonderful things like algebra and Spanish, not anything else that could be called "fun," right?? Most students anywhere will say WRONG!! High school is a major part of most of our social lives. It's the place we go to see our friends and talk about REALLY important things, like the gorgeous guy or girl that just moved into town, or the great time we had at the dance last Friday night.

Besides all of the hard work there is to do, most of us have to admit being in high school is fun (and would be much more fun if we could get rid of all the classes!!).

Some of the things that make high school fun are rallies, brunch and lunchtime, and after school activities like football and basketball games and after-game dances. Remember, it's a lot harder to get into the dances if you don't go to the high school!

Rallies are mandatory at SBJUHS but they are a lot of fun even though you do HAVE to go. Most students WANT to go to them anyway. Your attitude makes the big difference in a rally. If you go and just fall asleep the whole time or think it's a drag, obviously you won't have the greatest time. But if you go and cheer, clap, and try to enjoy yourself, rallies can be a real blast.

Brunch and lunchtime activities include walking around the campus, talking, and the all-time favorite pastime, eating.

We can see that there is plenty more to do at school than work, work, work. High school can be a fantastic experience — especially when you're a Baler!

Traffic-clear street, an exciting band, imaginative floats, and warm weather. The perfect ingredients for a perfect homecoming parade. The theme for this year's parade was "game shows", with the senior's interpretation of "The Wheel of Fortune" winning first place. Second place was given to the sophomores for their float, titled, "Football Feud" with third going to the freshmen's version of the "Gong Show".

Pacific Grove, this year's opponents for homecoming, was better than ever. The Baler Band dressed in some very original costumes, entertained an excited crowd of over 2,000 football fans during half-time. Also in the half-time activities was the crowning of the very elated homecoming queen, Rachel Zuniga. Her escort was the distinguished Jeff Ross. This thrilling evening of football was wrapped up with a 42-12 victory over the Pacific Grove Breakers.

Homecoming this year was fun for all due to the combined efforts of the student body and faculty. "It was truly a night to remember," said Kristinea Anderson. According to Judy Bermudez, "There were more people that were excited about homecoming this year. It seemed like they had fun organizing it." David Ortiz seemed to say it for all of us when he said, "It was so crowded it was like one giant Baler."

Gawd, what do you call that outfit? Did you get dressed half asleep this morning? Oh, and your hair, no time to comb er whot?!

Believe me we have heard those lines and others like it all year. Who are we? We are Mods and Thrashers. A Mod is any young person whose life practically evolves around modern music and style and a Thrasher is a person that skateboards and whose interests are also music and style.

Some Mod styles are torn jeans, flannel shirts, over-sized T-shirts, black chinese flats and black Converse hightops. Some of our other fave things are black suspenders, hightop Vans, army jackets, boxer-shorts, and long black skirts.

We also like late 1960'ish looking mod sweaters or just about anything else we can find. And find where, you might ask? Tina Candelaria thinks Goodwill and second hand stores are about the best for unusual, mod clothes. "I go to malls and regular stores sometimes, but my second hand clothes are still my favorites." Tiny Espinoza agrees "Goodwill and second hand stores are cool because you can get clothes there that no one else has and that look really cool! Leti Candelaria likes to get jewelry there.

As for music most Mods and Thrashers like music ranging from new modern music to hardcore punk. Bands like: Depeche Mode, Oingo-Boingo, Tears for Fears, Souxie and the Banshees, The Cure, The B-52's.

Another thing you should know about us is we take a lot of heat and criticism for the way we look, the things we like, and for just being different from most of the people here at the high school. But to tell you the truth it doesn't phase us or hurt us in any way. As a matter of a fact, that's just what we want. Well not exactly! I don't mean we like to hear you criticize us. But we do like to be thought of as being different and original.

Costumes, tricks, and treats were the main attractions throughout the entire school at the first Annual Halloween Costume Contest, put on by the yearbook staff. The contest was a big success, thanks to the participation of most of the student body.

For the judges it was extremely difficult to choose only one first, second, and third place, but after long and hard thinking, Ms. Clark, Mr. Van Gerpen, and Mr. Lavorato finally decided who the Biggest, Brightest, and Best costumes belonged to. As stated by Sophomore Lana Shelton.

"It was a great way for people to express their imaginations, and as it turned out, some people had some pretty wild thoughts!"

Biggest (third place) went to senior Heather Parker with her great imitation of a shower clearly stating "Men Only" on the back. Brightest (second place) went to senior Lynne Brockbank with her costume of a lime-green bird. Best (first place) went to "The Fruit of the Loom Girl," senior Shannon Hansen and her Grapevine costume.

2. Senior Terri Lamb and Heather Parker eagerly await the results of the judging, only to find out that Heather has won the prize for the Biggest costume.
3. "Birds of a feather flock together," like Junior Wendi Jay, and Brightest contest winner, Senior Lynne Brockbank, while clowning around with their friends Maureen Winn and Stina Low.
4. Spirited students show off their best Halloween getups at the first annual Halloween costume contest.
5. "Fruit of the Loom Girl," Shannan Hansen took best honors while smurfing around with Davina Polanco.
6. Father Chopper preaches his word among the contestants while waiting for the results at the contest.
7. Sophomores Chris Ranney and Molly DeWulf ham it up on their way to class.

Cruising! Working! Parties! Day or night just like dynamite!! Balers have varying schedules for after school hours. Most students have after school jobs that they consider the hot working spots of Hollister, such as McDonald's, Bob's Drive In, and K&S Market.

After working hours the Balers get ready to take the town, as shown by Senior Laura Flores filling up her truck with gas to go down town. Usually taking the town means either going on a date, to a party, or just getting together and going out to eat.

Those Balers who work do have distinct feelings about work. Senior Gina Lomanto who works at Bob's Burger quoted, "I work to support my habits!" Junior Judy Bermudez says, "Work takes up too much time from your free time, even though the money does come in handy." Then there are those Balers who would prefer not to have a job.

Senior Jeff Cross believes in being with friends, as he was quoted as saying, "The thing that is most satisfying to me is non-school activities, such as attending wild parties or going on a hot date with a beautiful woman." Jessica Delgadillo, Senior, says, "I would rather work than go straight home after school." So as you can see, Balers all have different opinions and views about the working world, but all are the best at what they do.

ACADEMICS

Academics — what a tough word. But all it really means is the stuff we come to school for (besides lunch). You know like math, English, history, writing, and so on.

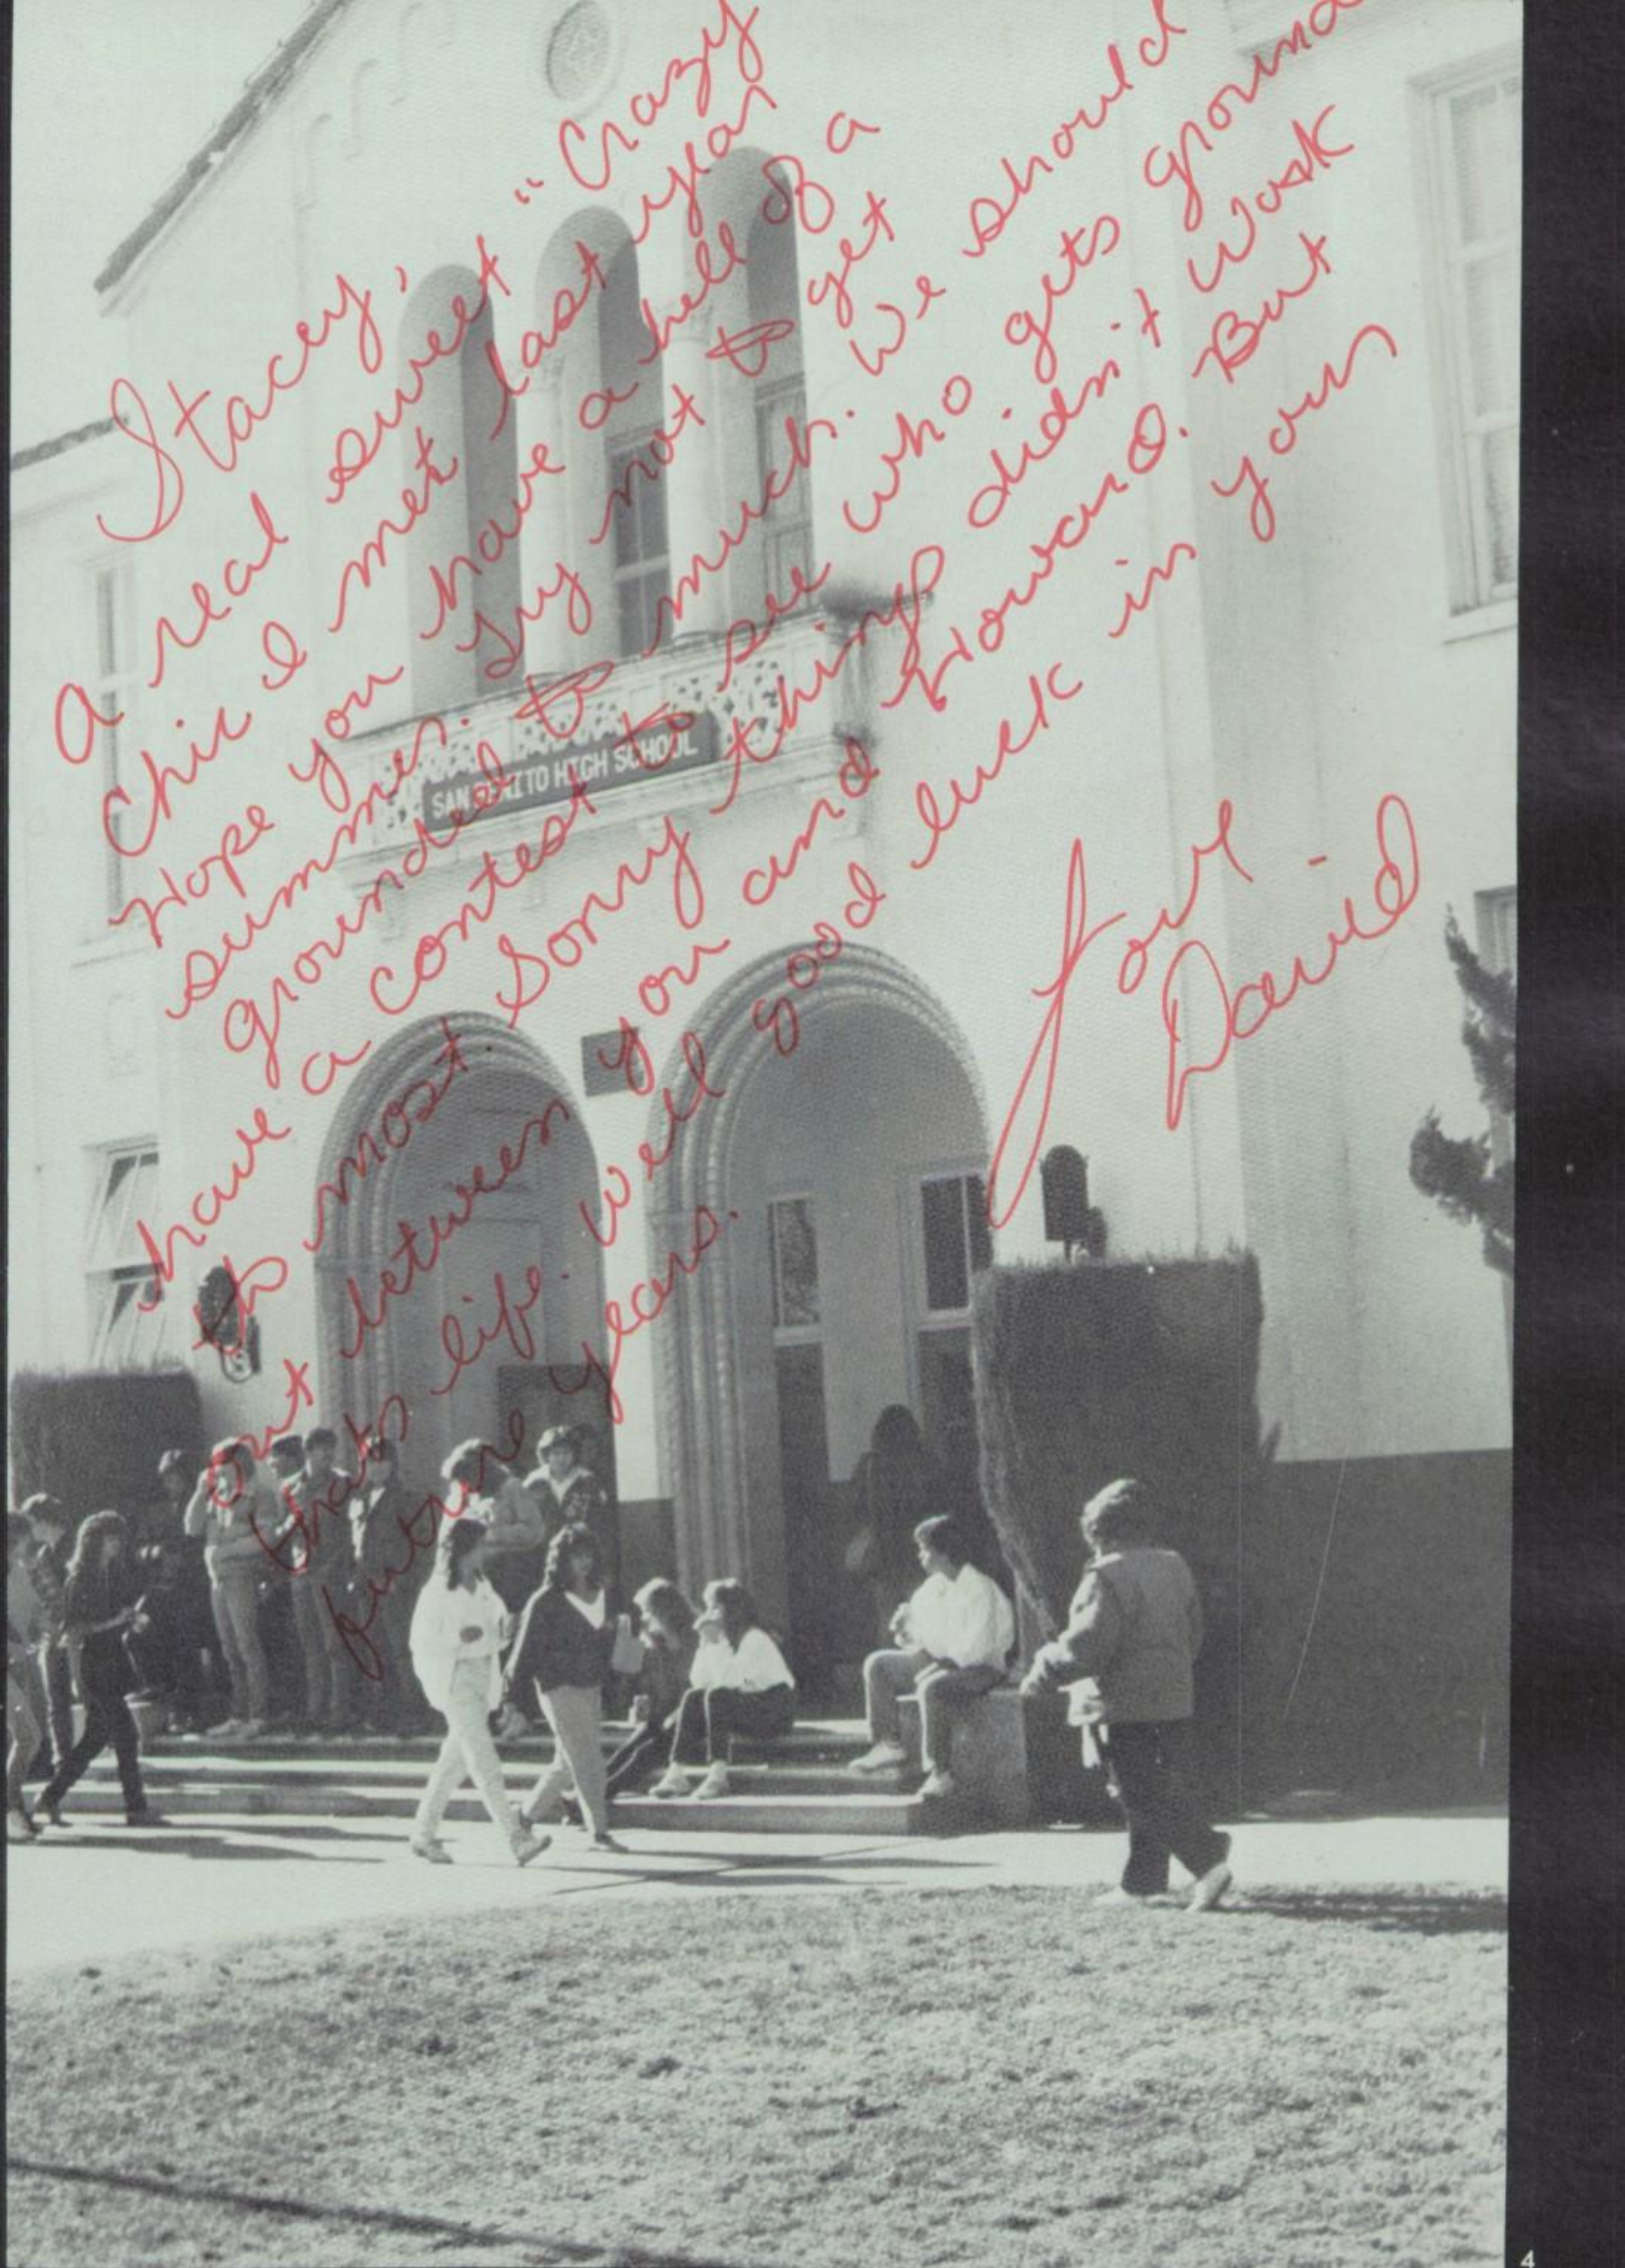

Though we may not enjoy it much, this is a major part of our school lives. The reason for school in the first place. What kind of future would we have if it weren't for academics? We learn everything we need to know to survive in this cruel world.

Colleges have made it more difficult in recent years for graduating students to be accepted. So, high school graduation requirements have also risen, to give students a better chance to go to a good college. For instance, the administration changed the graduation requirements (for the first time in years) beginning with this year's seniors, and including all other classes. The school now requires more math, science, and English classes.

So remember, next time you walk on campus, what you are really here for.

1. A busy Mr. Neddeau keeps his class under control.
2. Cynthia Rose takes time out of her rigorous schedule to study.
3. Andrea Galvan peers intently into her textbook.
4. Students lounge on the front steps of San Benito High during lunch.

B=usiness

Business Is the Best

Almost everyone this year is enrolled in a business or home economics class. These classes help you prepare for the business world and your family life after high school. The classes offered this year range from a variety of computer classes to creating your own specialties in Consumer Foods. This year ROP classes have increased, so that there are a lot more subjects offered now.

A Home Economics class, Exploring Childhood, gave students a chance to realize the responsibility of being a parent. To accomplish this they were given a baby egg to care for and keep track of for a week. Hopefully, at the end of the week their baby egg was still in one piece!

All of these courses are electives, so if you ever need to fill an empty semester, any of these classes will prove rewarding.

English

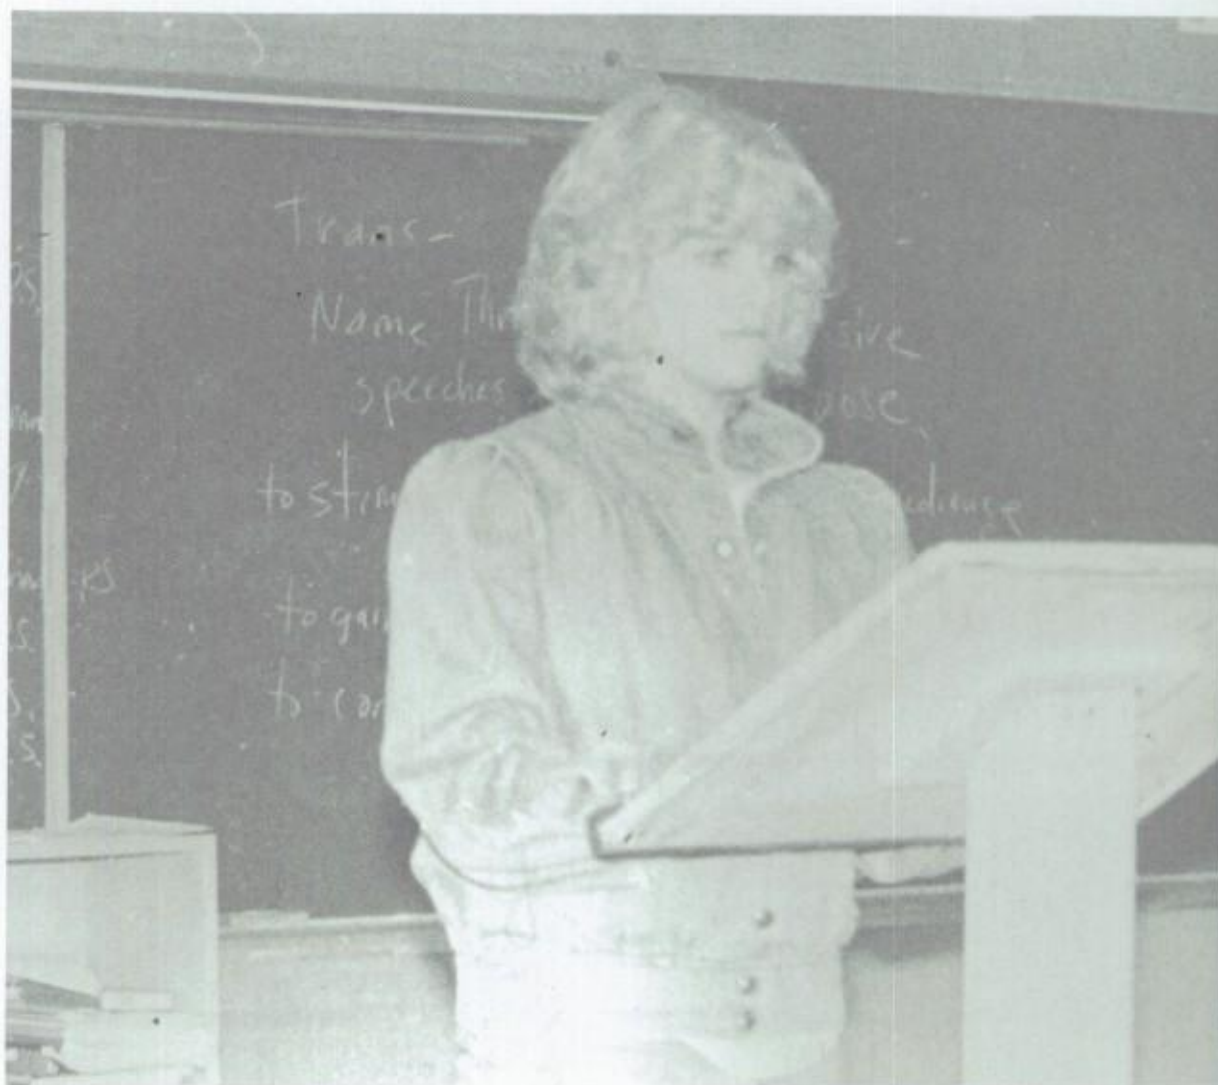

English Isn't Boring

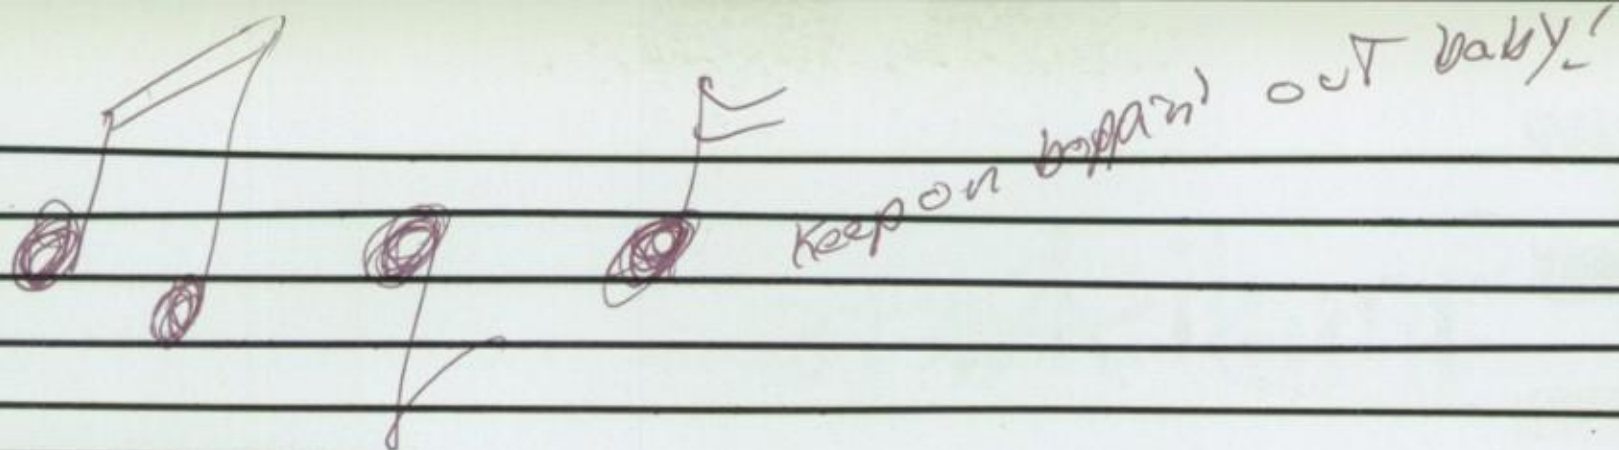

Is English a bore? Some people don't think so! The majority of our students, such as Todd Silva and Eric Snyder, believe that the teachers make the class. Our English Department has a variety of personalities ranging from the humorous side of Mr. Van Gerpen and Mr. Allen to the informative side of Mr. Sullens and Mr. Doucett.

Thanks to the dedicated staff we learn how to analyze words and use them effectively. The four years of English class that it takes to graduate will be filled with words, words, words! "There is no more visible indication of your knowledge than the words you use," says Mr. Sullens.

We start out with a freshman vocabulary list that has words on it that we can actually pronounce. Soon we work our way into Senior English with words that make us wonder if we are still speaking the same language. Mary McCullough says, "The words are not a part of my every day vocabulary and they strain my brain."

All the classes in between teach us to read and comprehend, organize a composition, prepare various speeches, and of course, know exactly what part of speech every word is and how to spell it correctly.

1. Sue Newland, junior, wonders how many people are really listening to her speech.
2. "I don't get no respect," Mr. Doucett seems to say.
3. Junior Ernie Flores begs Mr. Fields to call on him.
4. Chrissy Mansmith debates whether or not to remind Mr. Allen that he's a teacher and not a student.
5. "I should have been a math teacher!" sighs Mr. Allen.

Fine Arts

Fine Arts Takes Off

"Bonjour" — "Vamanos, ariba!" — "All right, class, get our your supplies" — "Where's my paintbrush?" . . . What do all these things have in common? For one thing, they all belong to the area of school called fine arts. The department consists of all foreign language classes, arts and crafts, and music.

A choir was started in the beginning of the year, taught by Mr. Fields. They had an original enrollment of 10 people; 8 girls and 2 guys, but Mr. Fields retired due to illness early in the year and choir was dropped from the schedule.

In foreign languages, Miss Lassaga's French classes learn about French culture and cuisine as well as the language. The Spanish classes, taught by Mr. Muro, Mr. Robledo, and Miss Lassaga, also cook foods and study cultures of Spanish speaking countries.

Mrs. Calle Allen heads the arts and crafts department. She teaches classes from beginning art to advanced ceramics to painting and drawing.

1. Ooooooh! Junior Stephanie Brengman can really mold.
2. The choir "getting down" in seventh period before the class was dropped.
3. Mr. Muro shows the girls how to prepare a Mexican omelet.
4. "Quel choses desirez-vous?" says Francisco Hernandez to "Nacho" Eastman and Becky Nuno.

Industrial Arts

Skills Worth Learning

If figures don't add up, then industrial arts is your answer. These courses include Auto Shop, Agriculture, Mechanical Drawing, Wood Shop, and Metal Shop. All of these classes teach new and exciting skills that you can use in the future. Students who do not wish to attend a four year college can find a promising career in any of the above fields. New proposals, such as changing Mechanical Drawing to an ROP class and having computer drafting help students get an idea and a taste for skills that are helpful.

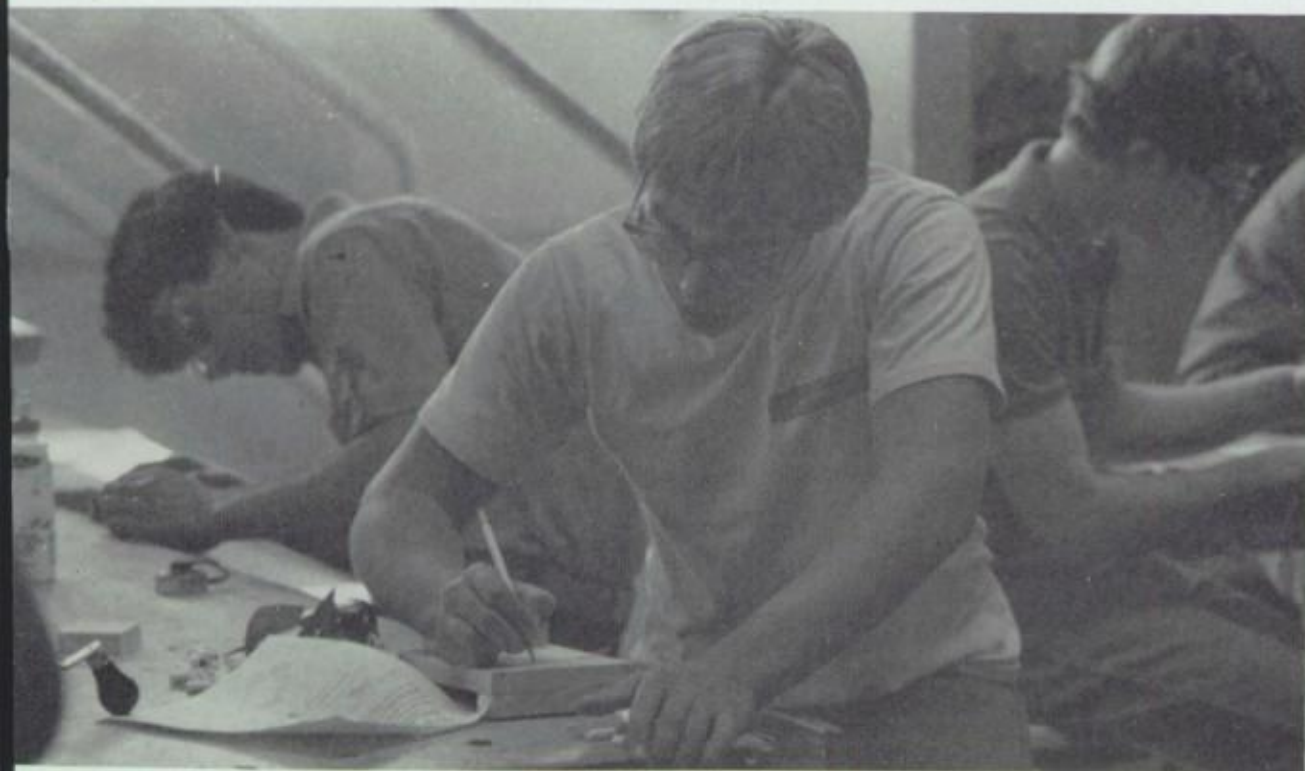

When asked how he felt about Mechanical Drawing Jeff Cross replied, "I feel that this Industrial Arts program is a great benefit to those who wish to further their skills in the field of drafting." Jeff, a senior, is a special projects student. Another one is Senior Mike Elliott who said, "This is an interesting and challenging course. The new computer has made it a lot easier." In Wood Shop, a three year veteran, Senior Robert Parra feels, "It's a good skill to have."

New teacher, Mr. Agan, adds great excitement and is making things happen. Mr. Agan comments, "I feel that Auto Shop is very important to society because the world needs transportation to get around."

Stacey,

The Math Nightmare

Have you ever found that the sum of the angles in your triangle add up to a lot more than 180° ? Or, perhaps, that three times two has equalled five? Do you have nightmares about syntax errors? If so, you have probably also had the privilege of Mr. Chen, the Math Department Chairman, laughing over your test paper. "Math blows us away!" agreed Julie Miller, Mary McCullough, and Rosendo Perez.

We have had more than 1,200 students enrolled in math classes this year. These classes range from General Math, to Computers, to Trig. And why do you ask, are we suffering through these trials and tribulations? Well, it is because the math units to graduate have been raised from twenty to twenty-five units. So we dust off our calculators and protractors, and read up on our calculator manuals. At least we will always know the meaning of the Pythagorean Theorem. But you know you are really in trouble when you have to spell it!

1. Todd Graham, thrilled to death to be in class, decides to come back to Geometry 15 minutes later.
2. Watch out freshmen! More math books are coming your way.
3. Mr. Chen's class listens semi-attentively.
4. I bet no one can do this!
5. Mrs. Spencer enthusiastically instructs Computer Programming.
6. One day Mr. Dunn may be laughing at your test paper instead of Brett Burrows.

Science

A Better Science Year!

Science is better this year! The Science Department is one of the most important departments in our school. The science classes stress the concepts of study, observation, and experiments. Science is taught to inform us about life and our environment. According to Connie Guaracha, "Science sometimes starts out boring, but as the year goes on, you learn a lot."

The science classes consist of Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. Marietta De La Cruz says that she "can't wait to start dissecting."

Earth Science is based on our solar system and the world around us. Human Biology explains the system of our bodies and our growing years. Chemistry is more of a mathematic based class which explores the atoms and chemicals in our planet.

One of our school's newest science classes is Physical Science. It is also based on the atoms of the earth and the study of protons. Hopefully this means the science department is getting BIGGER AND BETTER!!!

1. Mr. Masoni explains the system of the heart to Senior Michelle Lowry.
2. Scott Ozanne tells Mark Broadfoot, "Hey, that looks like what I ate for lunch in the cafeteria."

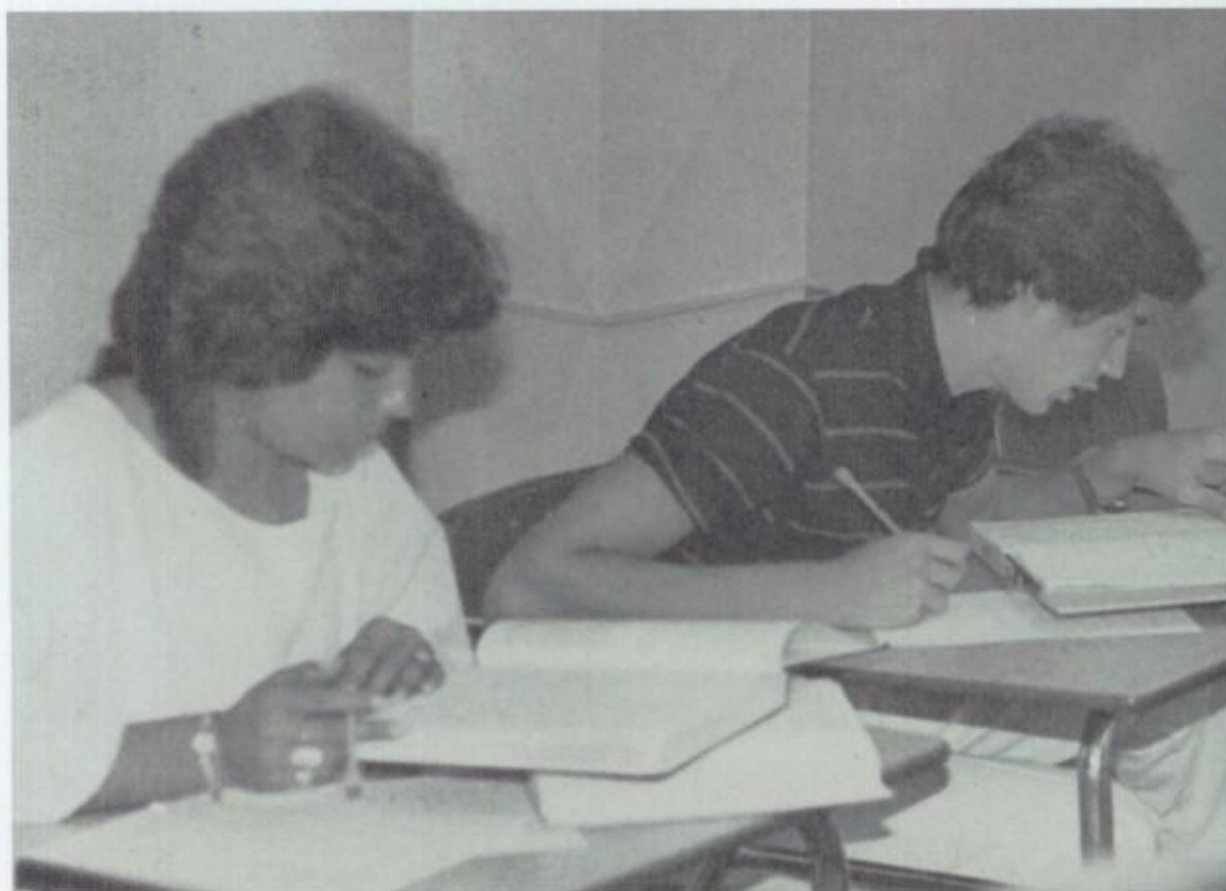

3. Jimmy Smiley, freshman, asks, "What is this?"
4. Jaime Lopez plays around with a cow's heart during class.
5. Pam Tuckness, senior, takes time out to smile for the camera.

Social Science

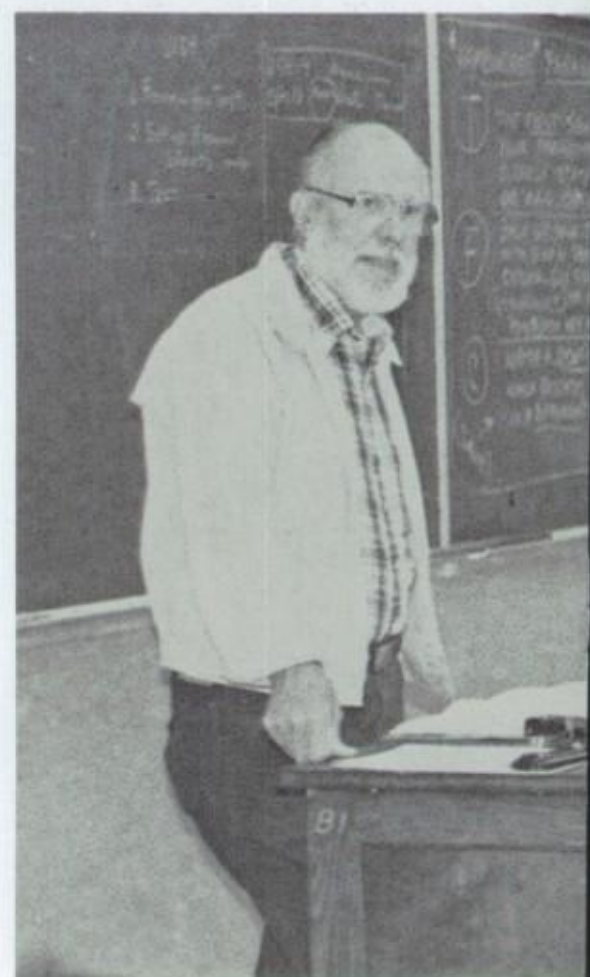

Important Issues

Current events and debates — what do these two subjects have in common? They both play an important role in Social Science classes. Economics, Cal. History, Chicano Study, Government, American History, Geography, U.S. 19th and 20th . . . just a list of some of the classes taken during one's four years at SBJUHS. These classes teach us about presidents, amendments, geography, railroads, wars, anything that was important to our past as well as our future. "Chicano Studies helps me find out about my ancestors and my past," says Junior Becky Castaneda.

You are probably wondering where current events and debates tie in, right? Well, I will show you how. Take for example a current event on money exchange rate in Portugal. Where would it apply? If you guessed Economics you're right!!! Here's another example. The earthquake in Mexico City on September 19, 1985, can be categorized in either Geography, Earth Science, or both. Debates on subjects such as abortion, AIDS, nuclear weapons, gun control, etc., are situations that have been looked at before, but were never as major a threat as now. Elaine Arballó, a junior, comments, "Debates are interesting. You get different viewpoints from different people on the same subject."

1. Lori Rogers, freshman, and Marcos Ramirez, junior, work on homework in Geography.
2. Mr. Roy teaches his Geography class with the help of a globe.
3. Mr. Rose wonders why no one has done their homework . . . again.

4. Senior Herminia Banda takes notes in Chicano Studies.

5. Sophomores take a test in U.S. 19/20th.

This years clubs escaped the double lunch period trauma which could have reduced club participation. Moreover, it could have interfered with club organization and meetings because they met during the lunch period.

Clubs are important because it allows students to get involved and meet new people outside of class. Clubs this year range from: promoting spirit in the Rally Club to challenging other opponents in the Chess Club. Every club has an advisor and brings forth the qualities and purpose of each club. Many of the clubs this year have ventured off to places such as: Washington D.C. with Close-Up and the Ski Club to Yosemite and Lake Tahoe. All other clubs seem to find their own destinations too!

Lorena Hurtado, a member of Close-Up said, "Washington was great this year! I would recommend others to go. It was worth it!"

"Clubs are great for students because it gives us a chance to get away from the pressures of school," says Stina Low.

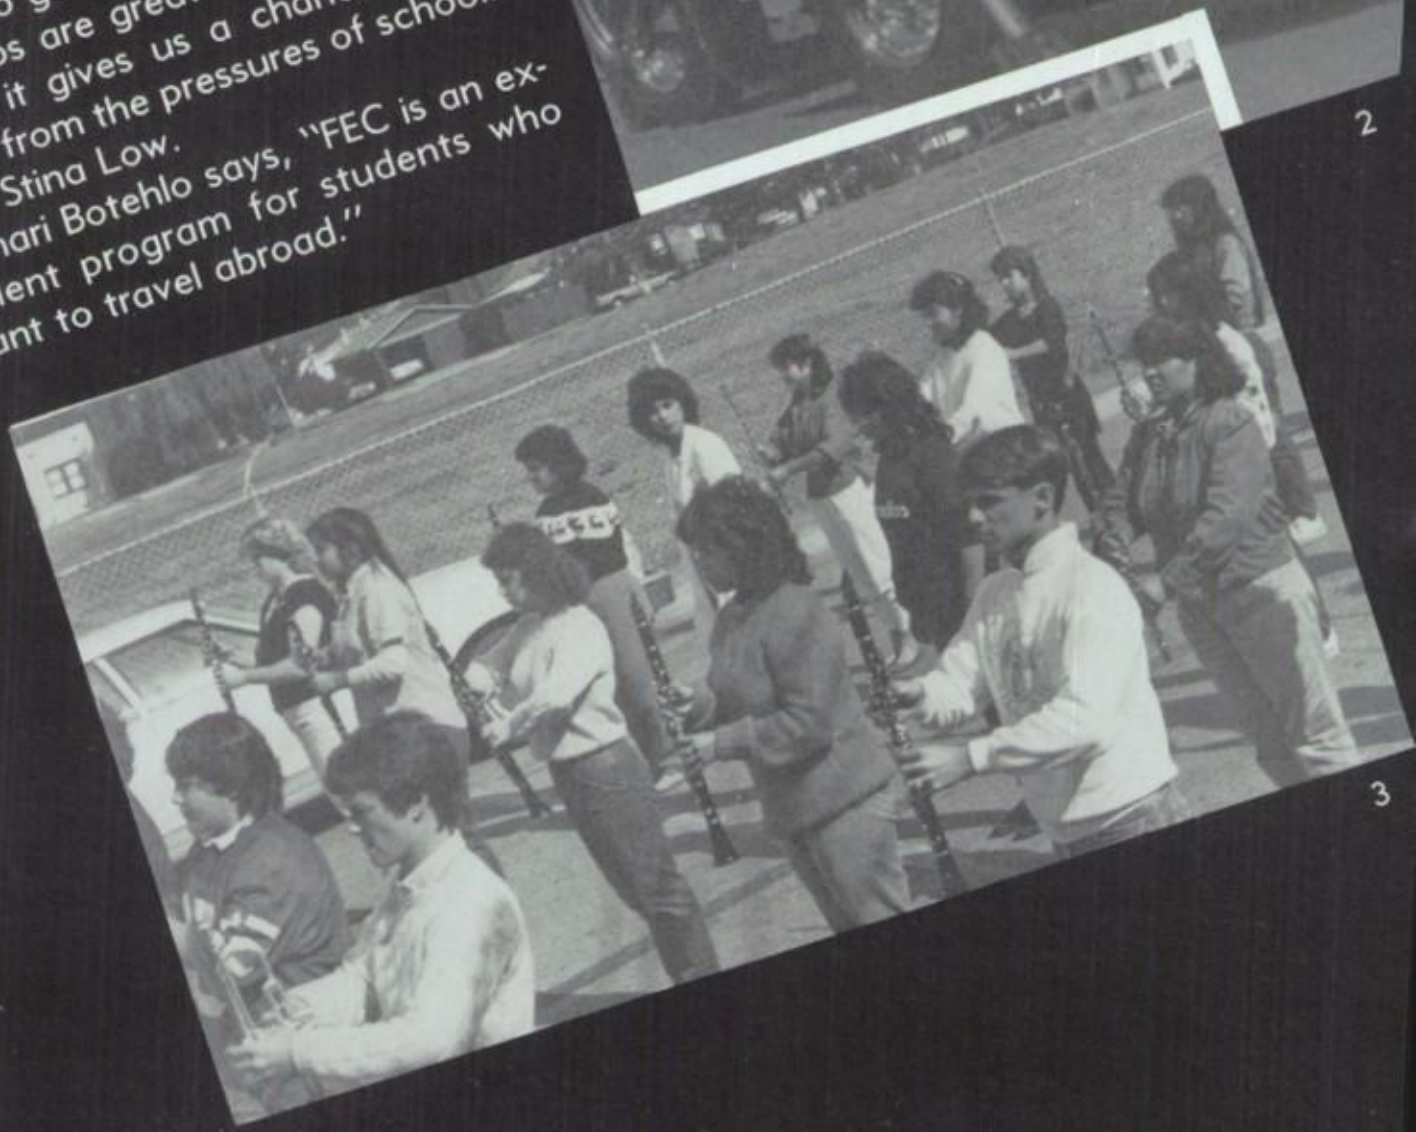

Shari Botelho says, "FEC is an excellent program for students who want to travel abroad."

"Can we have open campus?" An extended lunch period? A band on Friday for a clean campus? These are many of the issues the Student Council deals with as they try to make school more enjoyable for you.

Student Council is basically an elected legislative group which represents the whole student body. They are faced with overseeing and handling the student body budget, all student activities including clubs and classes, all fundraisers and dances.

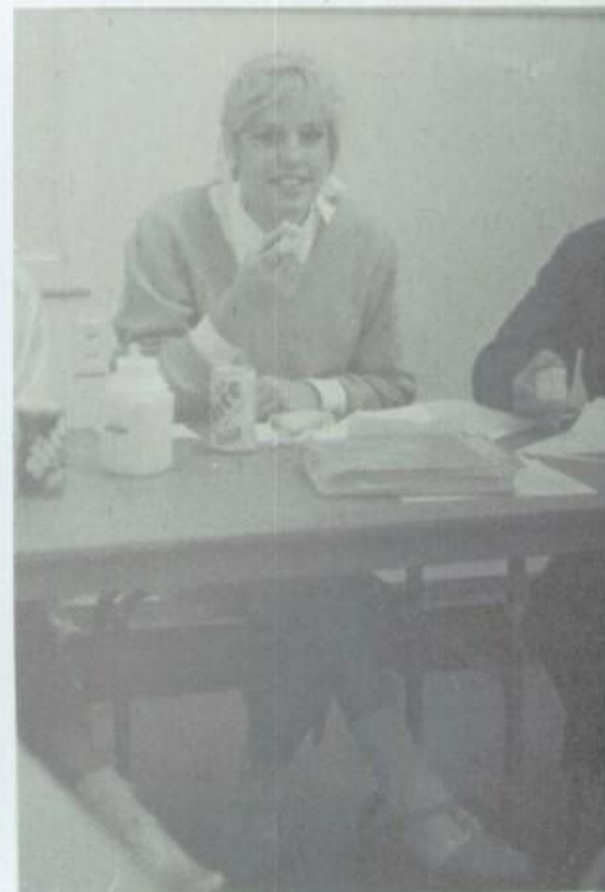

Eleventh grader Alex Macias, the treasurer, says, "It's pretty fun being in Student Council. I enjoy the experience and I enjoy my job approving the purchase orders."

The Student Council is the general link of communion between the general student body, the administration and the school board. The ASB President Nancy Frusetta, feels the "Student Council is successful this year. With students' comments the council is able to make changes for the better. Student involvement is always needed."

C.S.F.

Want to join a club that'll look good on your transcript? Then C.S.F. is the answer for you. The California Scholarship Federation has plenty of requirements. The most important requirement is a 3.0 grade point average and above.

Under the direction of advisor Mrs. Anderson, the club had several successful fundraisers. One of these was the help they gave to trick-or-treaters to cross the street on Halloween. Taking inventory at Dick Bruhn's was another successful project. Most of the money raised goes towards their trip to San Francisco at the end of the year. "This year has been very rewarding," said C.S.F. president Scott Burke.

"I've enjoyed it and find it helpful for my future goals," stated Cathy Pidd. Overall C.S.F. is a great club to get involved in during high school.

JR. STATE

Junior State is a non-partisan political awareness club. "It gives students a chance to better understand political issues and participate in actual debates," says club advisor, Mrs. Hall. Junior State is full of exciting students who are eager to learn, experience, and meet new people. This state-wide organization is student run. Activities include two major conferences: The Northern Overnight held in San Francisco and Spring State held in Sacramento.

"I feel that being a member, and this year's president of Junior State, has given me the political and governmental awareness that is necessary for the future," said Julia Hyun.

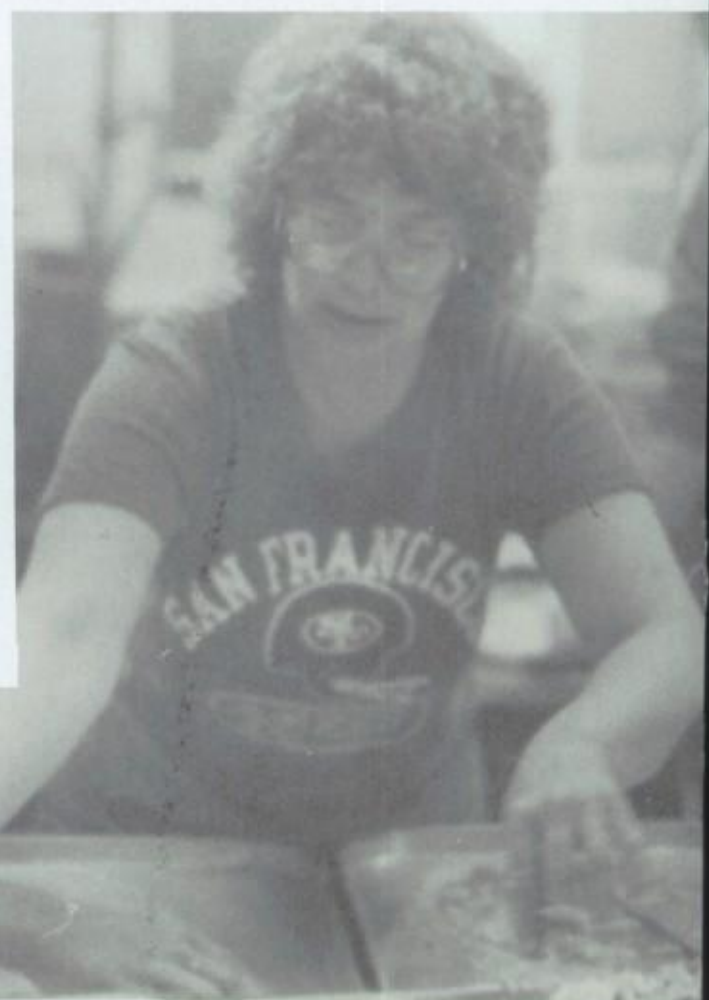

All who participated in this year's activities had a terrific time and have memories that will last a lifetime.

CLOSE-UP

How would you like a trip to Washington D.C.? Well if you would have joined Close-Up you might have been able to go, but of course not for free. Close-Up had to hold a lot of fundraisers so all sixteen students could reach the goal of $846.00. In a way you could have gone for free, but you would have had to work on fundraisers. Close-Up is a club which is designed to get students involved in our Democracy. This Washington trip is the main learning experience which makes more students aware of what's happening in our country. Senior Sonya Casarez stated, "I learned about what happens in the Capital, in the White House, and how the whole system works." This trip isn't just for the students, teachers also get more updates about Democracy. So if you would like to know more about our country, Close-Up would be your best bet.

FEC

Does FEC sound foreign? It shouldn't. It's still the same ol' AFS. San Benito High School felt the need to have a club that would unite the many different exchange programs. Students selected the name FEC (foreign exchange club). They still have the same activities, which this year included a trip to San Francisco to see the play "MY ONE AND ONLY." Fund raisers such as a flower sale at Halloween helped finance these trips.

In FEC students get a chance to experience new cultures through not only going to other countries, but also by becoming close to the students that come to America. "FEC has been important to me all through school, because it has given me the chance to learn about different people and cultures," said second-year president Mary Avila. "It is something I will remember all my life."

"Traveling to other parts of the world and having the opportunity to live with and learn about another family and another culture can be one of the most rewarding experiences of a person's entire life," said Mrs. Lotz. "The more one finds out about him/herself and his/her country. San Benito High School students are privileged to be able to participate in these country-to-country exchanges. Broaden your horizons and take advantage of these opportunities. As the slogan goes, 'Walk together, talk together all ye peoples of the world. Then and only then will we have peace,' " Club Advisor Mrs. Lotz, emphasized.

CLUB ESTUDIANTIL

Interested in Mexican culture? Then Club Estudiantil is for you. During this year, Club Estudiantil has had many activities. This club encourages students to take part in Mexico's traditional events through school and community functions. One such event this past year was a Christmas program for students and the community in which they performed the BALLET FOLKLORICO. This dance is a cultural dance known throughout Mexico.

Club Estudiantil also held their annual corsage and boutonniere sale this year. This money raiser was, as usual, very successful.

The money raised from events such as the ones described above, is used for college scholarships and outfits like the ones used in the BALLET FOLKLORICO.

President of Club Estudiantil, Guille Reynoso says, "(Being in this club) is a lot of hard work!" Ruth Lopez adds, "It's a good experience." Under the advisorship of Juan Robledo, Club Estudiantil is sure to be a successful club well into the future.

MECHA

MECHA, (Movimiento Estudiantil Chicano de Aztlan) helps Mexican students get involved with campus life at San Benito High.

"Mecha helps Mexican Americans become aware of their culture. I encourage more Mexican Americans to join Mecha and to be proud of their culture," said Martin Lopez, junior, who has been active in the club for two years.

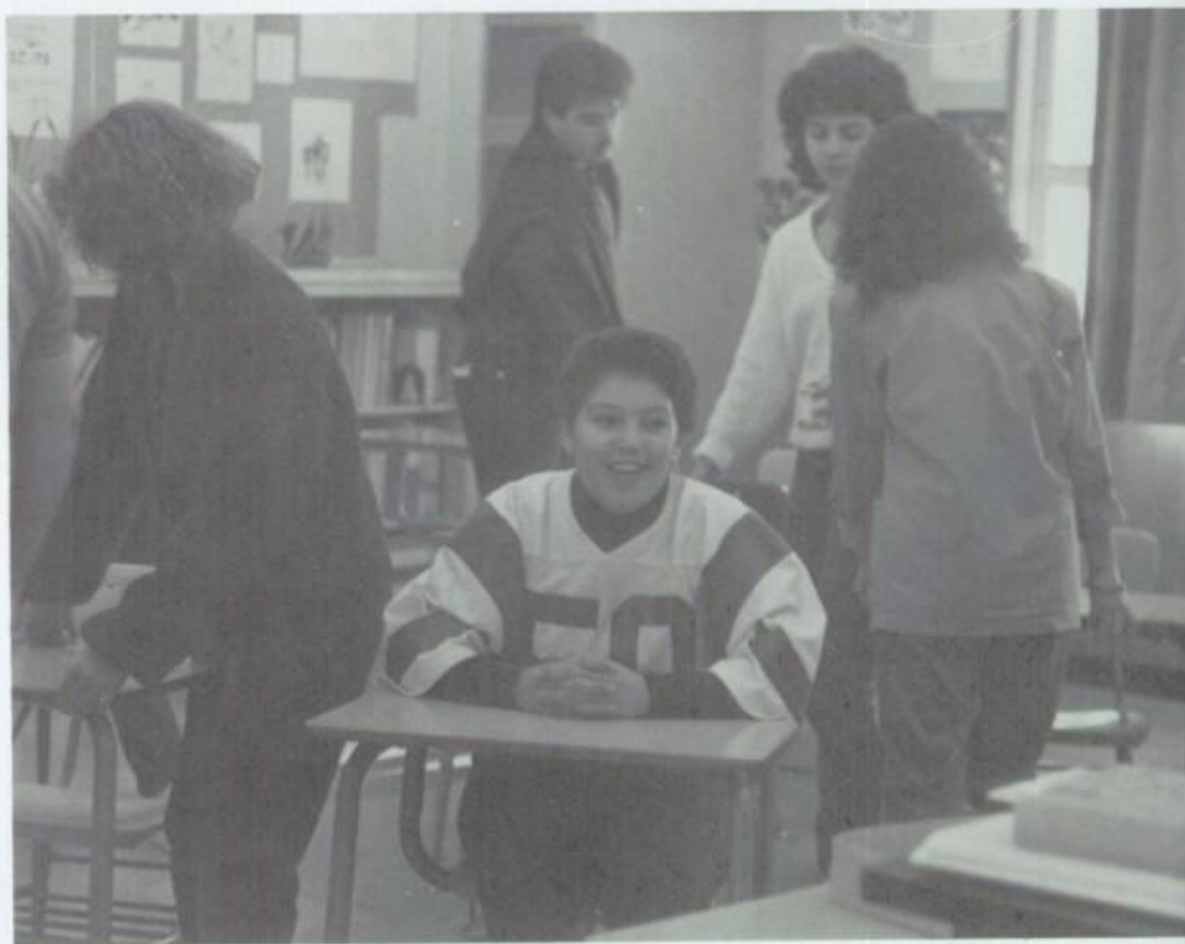

Mecha Club, under the leadership of Teacher Frank Ledesma, has had an active and interesting year. A car wash to raise money for earthquake victims in Mexico was one of Mecha's first fund-raisers. The club also sold two-year planner calendars and put on a dance (which is always successful).

Another highlight of the year was a youth conference in Fresno where Mecha members practiced leadership skills and learned how to cope with problems of life. It was a very educational trip, not to mention the dance after the conference where our club members mingled with students from many other high schools.

"Mecha is a fun club to belong to," said Anita Jacquez. "I had fun participating in the activities to help others. Enrique Arreola, Vice President, said, "Mecha helps you to understand your culture."

FRENCH

The French Club explores and discusses the many aspects of French culture. Many of the French club members are fluent in the language of French and are increasing their vocabulary each day with the help of the clubs advisor Ms. Michele Lassaga. "The French club is small this year, but our goals are even bigger" says club president Elizabeth Lopez. Club officers who will try and accomplish these goals are Elizabeth Lopez, president; Connie Guaracha, vice-president; Mary Avila, secretary; Lizzette Laffarga, treasurer. The French clubs activities this year include a brownie sale and a Christmas stocking sale. Future plans for the club will be a flower sale on Valentines Day and their own Mardi Gras Party. The French club hopes to leave an impression on its graduating club members to always remember.

These are the voyages of the HHS Science Club. Its four-year mission to explore the strange new world of science. To seek out new life forms of civilization past, present and future to boldly go where no man has gone before. Club advisor Mr. Masoni, assisted by President George Tombe and Vice President Adam Breen organized a number of activities and trips. They went to Golden Gate Park in San Francisco and Fremont's Peak to see Halley's Comet.

Some of their fundraisers were selling candy and the photo buttons. We asked President George Tombe how he joined the Science Club, he said, "I joined last year with my girlfriend and I had to come back this year." The Science Club has been around a couple of years and is going to be around for years to come.

CAMPUS Life

Campus Life deals with Christianity and the world today. A lot of people are misled by the meaning of the word "Christianity", it is not a religion, but a personal relationship between someone and the Lord in his heart.

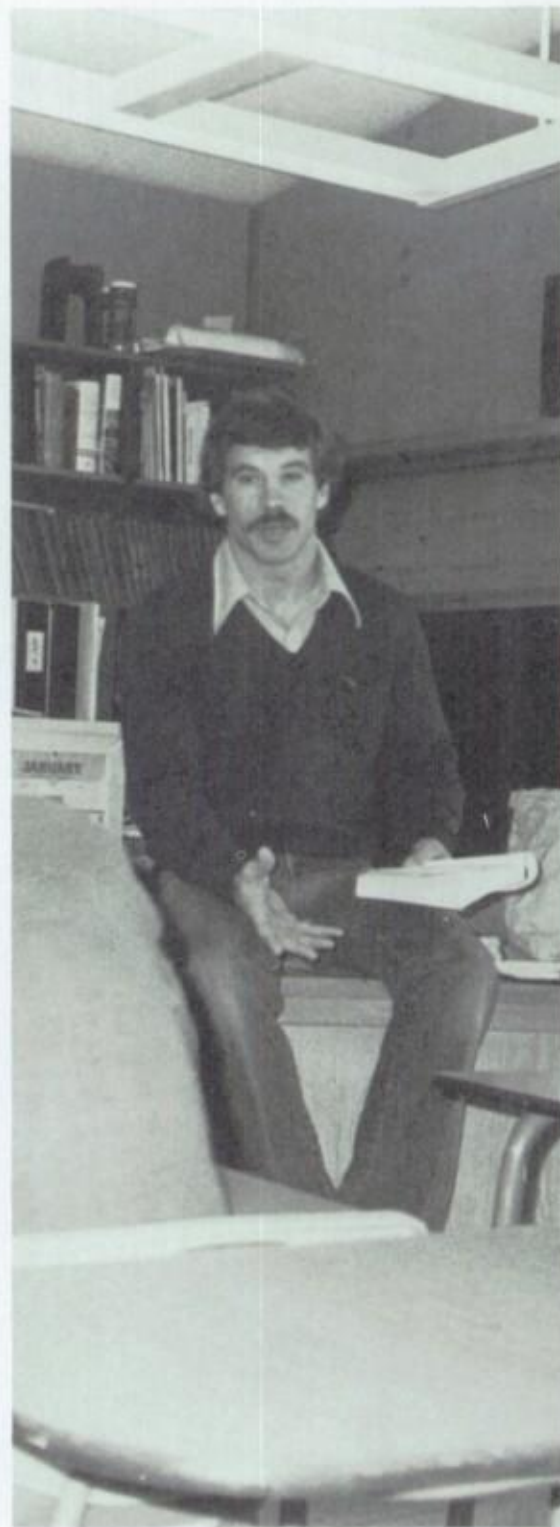

Mr. Roy said, "The people in this group are the only kids in this school with guts. They are willing to share what they believe in and are put through a lot of mental abuse and even physical threats by others for choosing to become a Christian." He also stated that many kids out in the world are insecure and are looking for that feeling that would meet their needs, but tend to look in the wrong places.

Ginny Gately exclaimed, "It's a time of fellowship and sharing, it's really encouraging to sit and listen to God's word and love it." "A lot of people think the Bible is a book of rules and regulations, but it is only a guideline for the best possible life," Mr. Roy said. The group talked about controversial issues like the influence of rock music, relationships, planned parenthood, and abortion. The club raised money through car washes and by selling brownies. They raised about $1,100 for tracks and books for new Christians.

Another year came and went for Soccer Club, and it was great! The members of this club help and support our soccer team. They organize fund raisers to help the team buy new uniforms and equipment. For example, this year, their biggest fund-raiser was selling chocolate candy bars. It was a real success.

The Soccer Club also holds a banquet at the end of the season for the soccer players. Mr. Juan Robledo is the advisor of this club, and it is presided over by Guille Reynoso. The members of the Soccer Club are enthusiastic about it. Rocio Urbina, the sergeant-at-arms of the club, said, "It's been improving." Mary Lou Arreola said, "It's a fantastic club to be in!!"

Yolanda Leon had an interesting view of the club. "You learn to make decisions as a group," she said, "and that's an important skill to learn." It seems as though the members of Soccer Club have a lot of fun while learning at the same time.

ACTING IS BELIEVING!

DRAMA Club

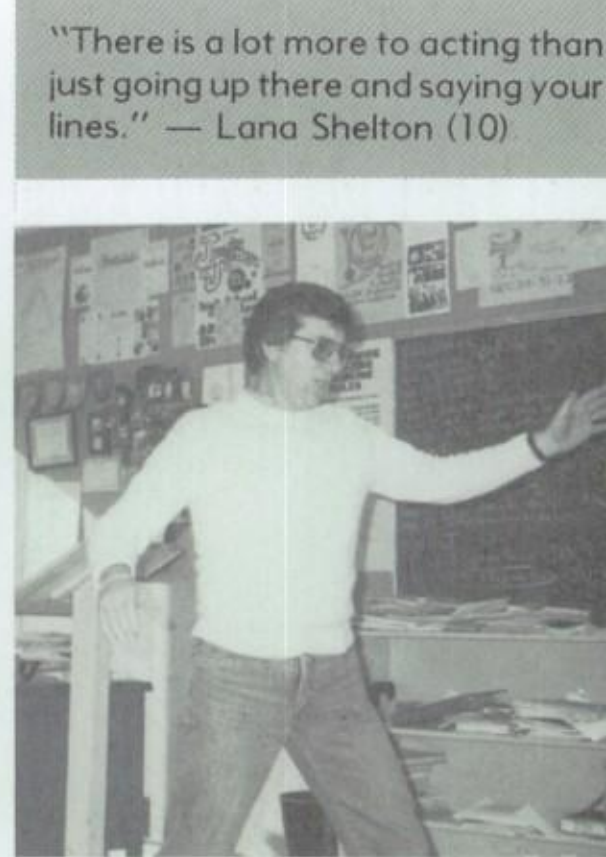

Your heart beats rapidly. Your voice squeaks. You break out in a cold sweat! These are signs of stage fright. If you have these symptoms, Drama I is for you.

Drama I is the beginning drama class that introduces you to acting. In this class you learn the basics of acting and how to create a believable character. How you get practice in creating a character is by doing a lot of acting on stage. "It takes practice to make a scene look believable and creative," states senior Robin Rodrigues. Mr. Allen makes sure you learn basic skills by giving you assignments like doing skits and short scenes on stage. He then grades your performances, corrects, and shows you what you did wrong or right. "It's fun to portray someone else!" says sophomore Chris Ranney.

Drama Production or "Drama Pro" as it is better known is more of an advanced class. This is a repertory company. They put on performances for elementary schools. In this class you learn more than just acting, you learn how to set up a stage, apply make-up, lighting, and directing; all the things which are needed to make a play a success. Drama Pro also designs some of the skits that you see in our rallies. They also put on night time performances for the public. This class is great for young future actors and deserves praise.

Future Homemakers of America, so called, HERO's — Home Economic Related Occupation, is a group of students who are learning to promote family relations. Many of the members participate in an exploring childhood class, where they learn about child care, nutrition, and discipline. The students conducted a two week child care center, for staff members' children. They gained actual experience in working with the children by reading stories, painting, and playing activities. "It is a very educational class," said Cathy Hague, "It's really prepared me for my future family." Club advisor, Mrs. Swanson, said, "It's a real neat class, and I enjoyed it as much as the students themselves."

Classes such as foods, the ROP Restaurant class, and sewing, prepares students for Senior parent night. The group prepares all year for this big event. Entertainment consists of skits and a fashion show featuring creations sewn by students in clothing class. Numerous fundraisers throughout the year make it possible for the club to provide an elegant candlelight dinner for graduates and their parents.

FFA

FFA . . . You hear these letters all the time, but do you know what they mean? Future Farmers of America. When most people hear of FFA they think only of animals, and of course who can forget, the Barn Dance. But is that all the Aggies do? "What could possibly keep them interested?" you ask. Well, if that's what you think, you're dead wrong! "Ag not only teaches you about animals but leadership too!" said Junior Tammie Biscaglia. There are many other activities that we, Aggies participate in. Such as Judging teams, if you were in FFA you could judge anything from engines to cattle and everything in between. Of course for those of you that don't like passing judgement, then how about the Parliamentary Procedure team, or extemporaneous or prepared public speaking. Like many other departments on campus the Agriculture department also received a new teacher, Mr. Clark, who just recently graduated from Cal Poly. "Starting the year out with a new teacher was hard especially after you've gotten used to the old one, but it has been a learning experience for all of us," said Stina Low. There are many opportunities for leadership and friendship, that's what makes FFA so different from the other clubs on campus, not only that but it's a National Organization with conferences and fairs galore. As you can see there are endless possibilities — enroll in a class now!

BLOCK H GAA

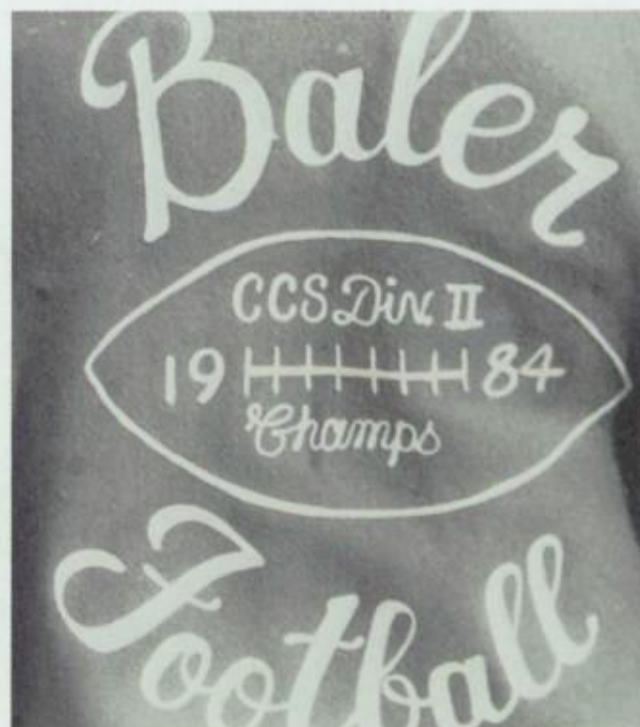

Red and white block jackets are a familiar sight for members of the Block H Club. The club is made up of guys who have earned their athletic blocks. Other qualifications for membership are an aggressive attitude and a great will to win. The purpose of Block H is to give athletes a hand in planning for their future and becoming a better athlete. The club puts on the annual Block H versus Faculty basketball game, in which the faculty had a 2 to 1 advantage going into the 1986 game. This year's club also planned to visit some of the area's Junior colleges and talk to coaches about the schools and athletic programs. Block H is advised by Carey Laine.

GAA is an athletic club for girls. The club's purpose is to give all female athletes a chance to get together with each other and help each other to become a better athlete. The club is advised by Stan Breslauer.

YEE-HAW! YAH-HOO! The spirit of Rodeo has really increased in past few years because of the members of Rodeo Club working together and trying their hardest to make it to the State Finals in Quincy, Ca. Members Alex Naccarato and George Ford are two who made it to State and tried their hardest to make it to National Finals. Neither succeeded, but their enthusiasm stayed with them.

"Next year we'll show them what District #4 can really do," said George Ford.

Members of San Benito High School Rodeo Club belong to District #4 of California High School Rodeo Association. "Rodeo is a part of a cowboy's life. It is also America's number one sport," said Alex Naccarato.

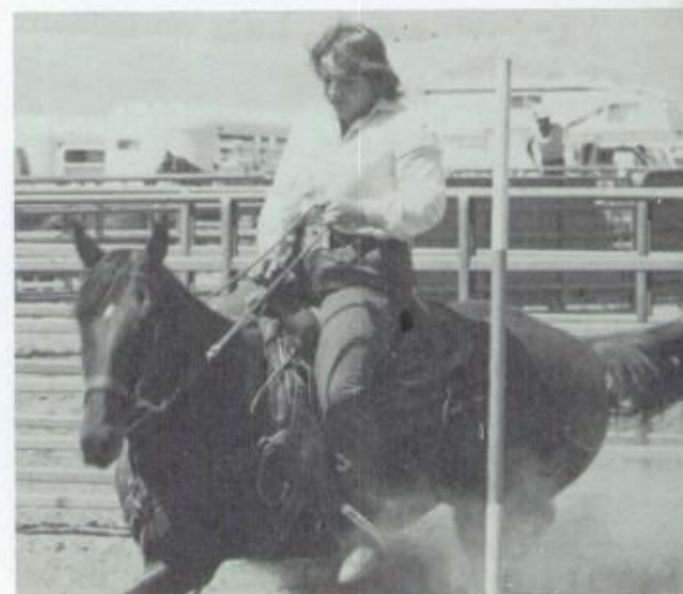

To be involved takes dedication, time and hard work. During a rodeo, contestants compete in a multitude of events. There are barrels to corner, goats to tie, wild broncs, ornery bulls to ride, steers to wrestle, and calves to rope.

Sophomore Tod Silva ranked number one in calf roping in District #4. He has proven that he deserves first place in calf roping. "Calf roping is a lot of fun. I have done it for awhile now, and I plan to proceed with it in the coming years," replied Silva.

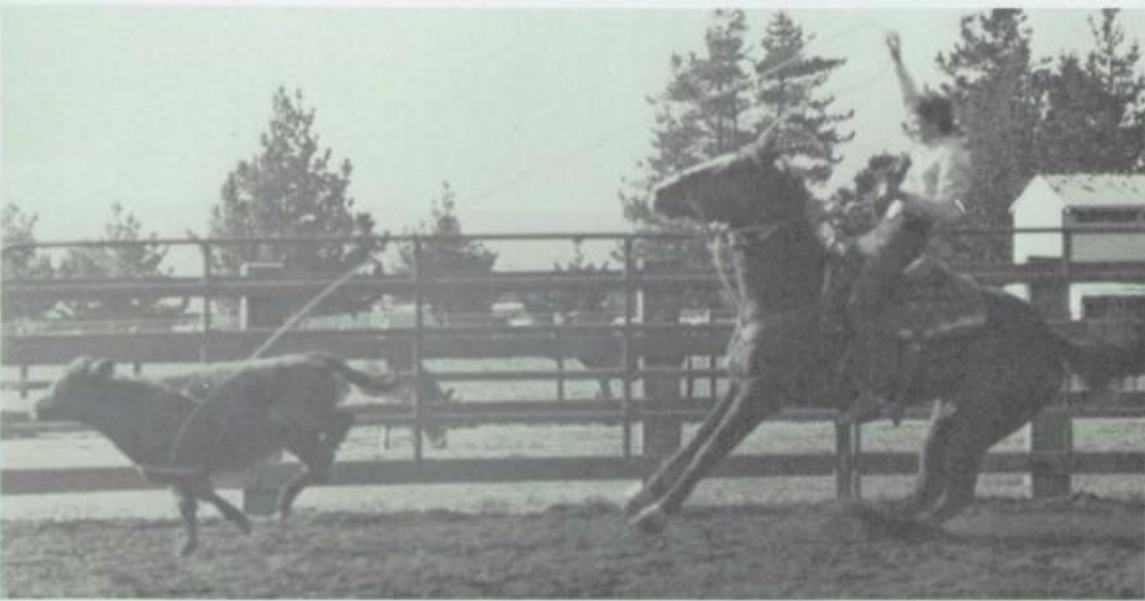

SO, PUT ON YOUR COWBOY BOOTS, PICK UP YOUR HEELS AND COME WATCH THE SAN BENITO COWBOYS AND COWGIRLS DO THEIR STUFF!!!

Ski Club

Swish, swish, swoosh! Does this sound familiar? If you are a member of the ski club it does. San Benito High's Ski club has many exciting trips that range from one to three days. The one day trips are usually nearby. Places such as Sierra Summit, Dodge Ridge, Bear Valley, and Kirkwood are hot spots for one day trips. Yosemite is the place to be when the Baler Ski club goes away for two days. On a three-day trip Kirkwood, Sierra Ski Ranch, and Squaw Valley are usually on the agenda.

If you're worried about the cost — don't. The ski trips are very economical. A three day trip averages about $190, a two day is roughly $100 and a one day trip is $20. (This price does not include your lift tickets or equipment.)

Cathy Hague (12) states, "The Ski club is super fun and a good opportunity to ski." "It's the best — everyone should join!" says Deena Maderis (10).

Mr. Dunn exclaimed, "Skiing is a leisure time activity that you can do all your life." So take Mr. Dunn's advice and become a member of the Ski club.

RALLY Club

Rally Club is one of the most motivating clubs on campus. Commissioner of Publicity, Michelle Acosta, says, "School spirit improved a lot due partly to the efforts of the Rally club." Led this year by president Julia Hyun, the club arranged and performed some fantastic rallies for us. The main purpose behind this club is to boast overall school spirit, promote sportsmanship, and to just plain have fun.

Other duties of Rally club include selecting Homecoming royalty and making posters that add color to our school. They decide, publicize, and sponsor dress-up days, class contests, and lunch time activities.

Rally club is a student organization dedicated to promoting school spirit. The activities planned and executed by the Rally club give all students the opportunity to become involved with school happenings.

The time is ticking down, and soon the second quarter of the football game is over. Finally, it's half-time! But it's more than just the band that makes half-time exciting. It's the combination of the band and auxiliary units together that makes half-time a class act.

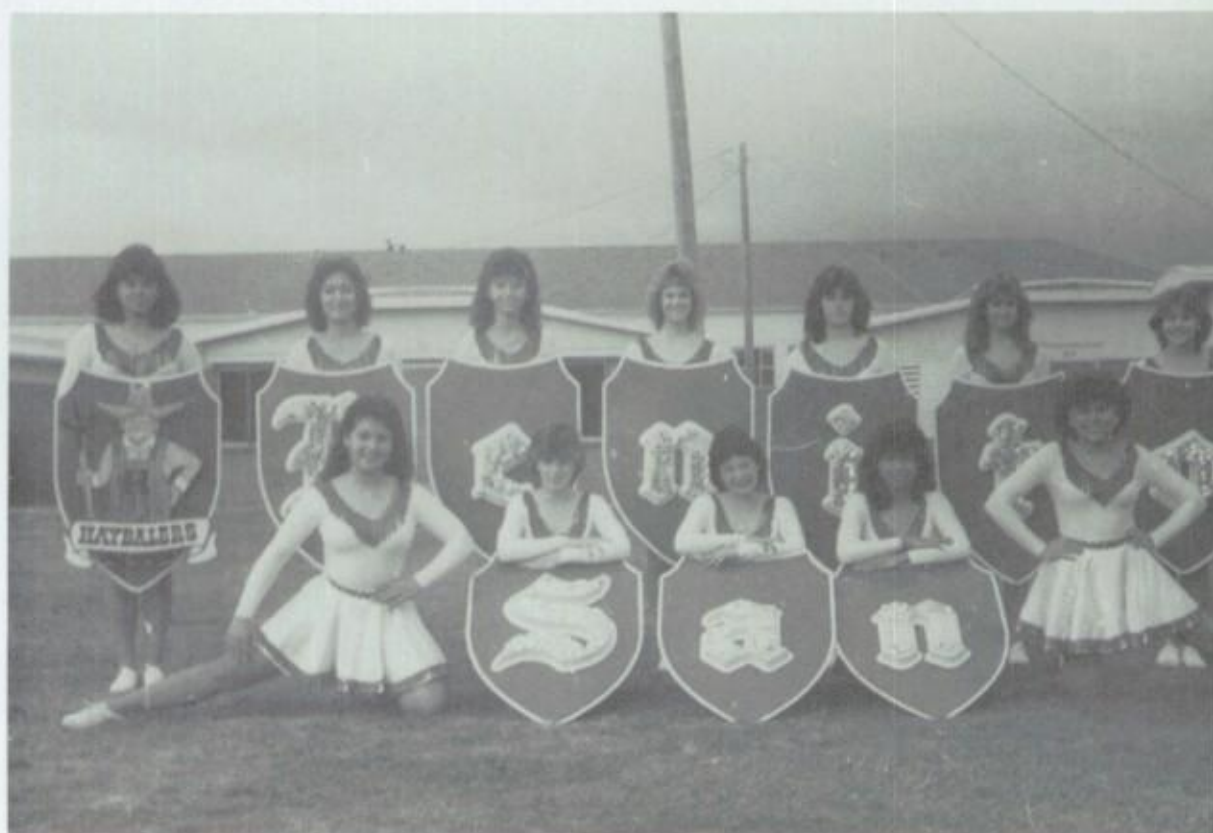

This years 1985-86 drill team, as well as the letter girls have been very successful throughout the year. "It has been hard practice, tough competition, and most of all, great fun!" replies Lizzie Scattini. Both teams worked very hard to raise money for their new uniforms, and for their future competitions they hope to be attending in the year.

"I think the drill team is capable of doing very well, because of their hard work and commitment," says Jill Alexander. Both teams have attended summer camps where the drill team won second place with the routine they took to camp. The drill team and letter girls both brought back a spirit stick for team unity. "To make it through Letter girls we've got to stick together," adds Esther Serrano, captain of the letter girls. Our new band and auxiliary advisor, Rosa Adams, comments that this year's teams have been really fun, and very successful. Both letter girls and drill team proved just that in their hard work and great performances.

Band

This year's Baler Band was introduced to a new and talented band director, Rosa Adams. The band received many awards for their outstanding performances at Foothill, Pacific Grove, the Artichoke Festival, and many others. The Baler Band has been well recognized in competitions on the field as well as on the street. They won many trophies this year. Percussion got first on street and second on field at Pacific Grove. The band won third on street and Ernie Dilley, this years drum major, placed second at Foothill (open class) and third at Pacific Grove.

Band offers students an opportunity to increase ones knowledge in the musical field. This years band has approximately 110 highly dedicated students, and is always accepting new members. Band is a year course, but one may join at semester.

The band also performs for Hollister during football halftimes, Christmas concerts, and also is combined with other Hollister schools for the Spring Festival.

Students this year enjoyed band. "I thought it was different because of the new band director; it turned out great," said Freddy Lopez.

Linda Beltran agrees, "She (Ms. Adams) is a little different but it takes a special person to handle a band like she has. We like her a lot here at San Benito High School."

VARSITY

SONG & CHEER

Being a member of spirit squad involves much more work than most people realize. The squad begins practice in May, long before any other sports team begins practicing. This practice continues throughout the entire year.

Last year, the Varsity songleaders and cheerleaders attended NCA spirit camp at Stanford University, and JV cheerleaders attended UBA spirit camp in Santa Cruz. With all the new material that was learned from these exciting camps, the squads prepared for rallies and up-coming sports events. At these events the squads got the chance to show people what spirit was all about. Enthusiasm and dedication are the foremost qualities that make Hollister High School spirit squad shine.

JOURNALISM

Did you ever wonder where the BALER comes from? No, it's not the cabbage patch! Two classes of well organized journalism students advised by Mrs. Marilyn Wright work endless hours to put together our school paper. Every month, a new volume of the BALER is produced by these marvelous students.

It's a lot of hard work, but most of the students really enjoy it. Marcus Belardes (11) says, "Journalism has been a real experience. I get to express myself through writing. I also usually get to write about things I like."

Each issue contains news, feature, and sports stories, which are written and researched by the journalism staff. Students are not only responsible for writing stories, but also for the page layout and the photography. They learn, in addition to writing skills, how to be efficient and responsible in meeting their deadlines.

Angela Jukes (10) said, "It's been a learning experience, and I've been able to use my creative ideas in my stories."

YEARBOOK

Hey, guess what? We finally finished the yearbook!!! All that time we spent after school and during lunch to finish assignments has really paid off.

For those of you who've thought that yearbook is a "kick-back" class, think again. Once you've finished assignments, or met deadlines you can relax, however, until then, it's hard work.

Many of us never had any experience or knowledge of what this class was, but look how far we've come!! We learned how to make layouts, print up pictures, interview teachers, develop film, learn responsibility, work together, and meet deadlines. Okay, I admit, we had some trouble there, yet we still made it!

We've had some pretty fun times during class and after school. Yearbook can be difficult but its rewards are great; especially when you've seen your final work on paper. It's beyond words!!! Editor Maureen Winn exclaims, "The best part of Yearbook is finishing!"

By the way, I'd like to thank Mrs. Wright. Without her patience, sense of humor, and friendship we couldn't have done it. Also, a special thanks to Don Smith.

Independence is the main goal for our school special education class. There are nine students enrolled in the program. The students attend school during regular hours and follow the same daily schedule as the rest of the school. They study a wide variety of courses ranging from Basic Academics to R.O.P. and work experience classes. The students also work on economical and domestic skills to prepare themselves for independence. Many of the students take part in an on campus stationery business in which the students make and sell stationery to a local book store. Other students work in the cafeteria and the counseling offices during part of the day. Students also take part in P.E. and as many regular school activities as they can. They go to assemblies, rallies, and many sporting events. Richard LaCorte has been a basketball manager for four years and the Balers #1 FAN. The program is advised by Sam Walsingham.

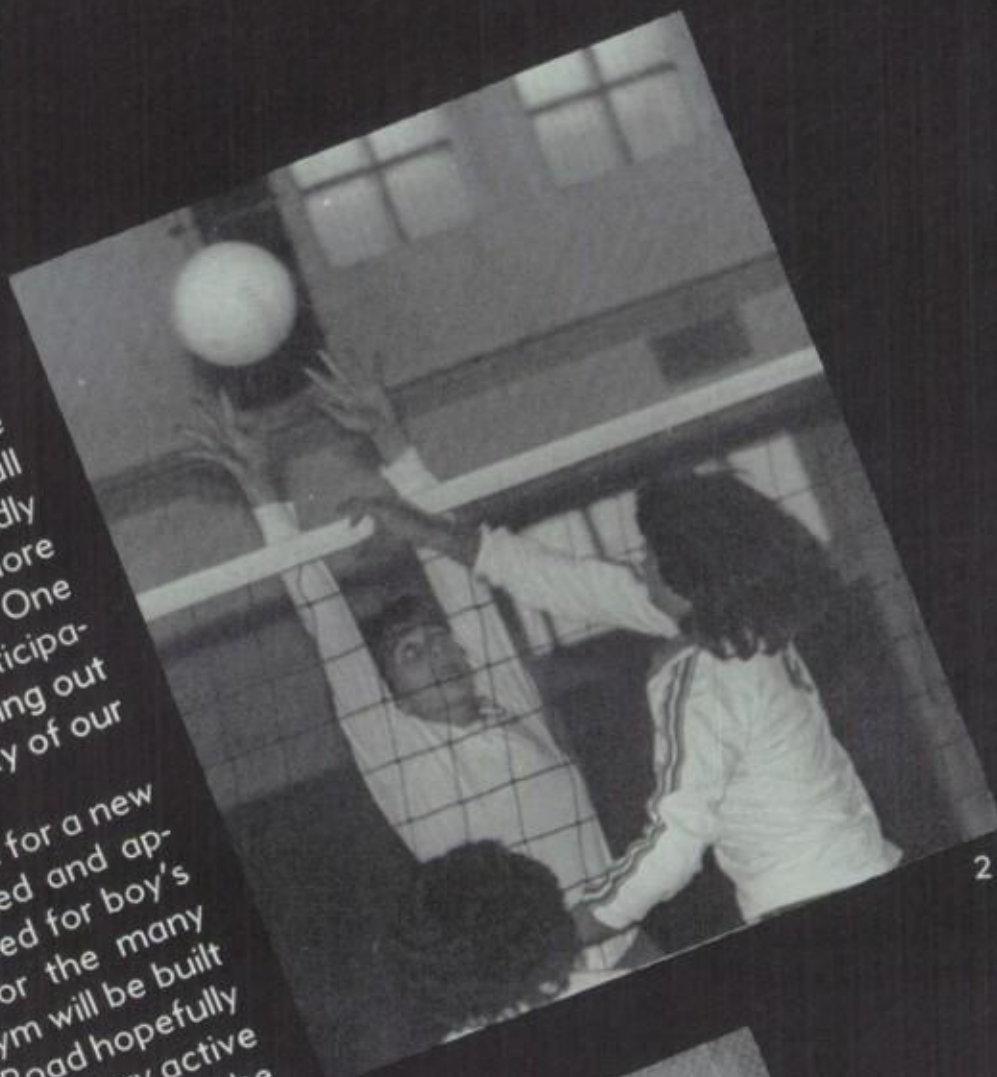

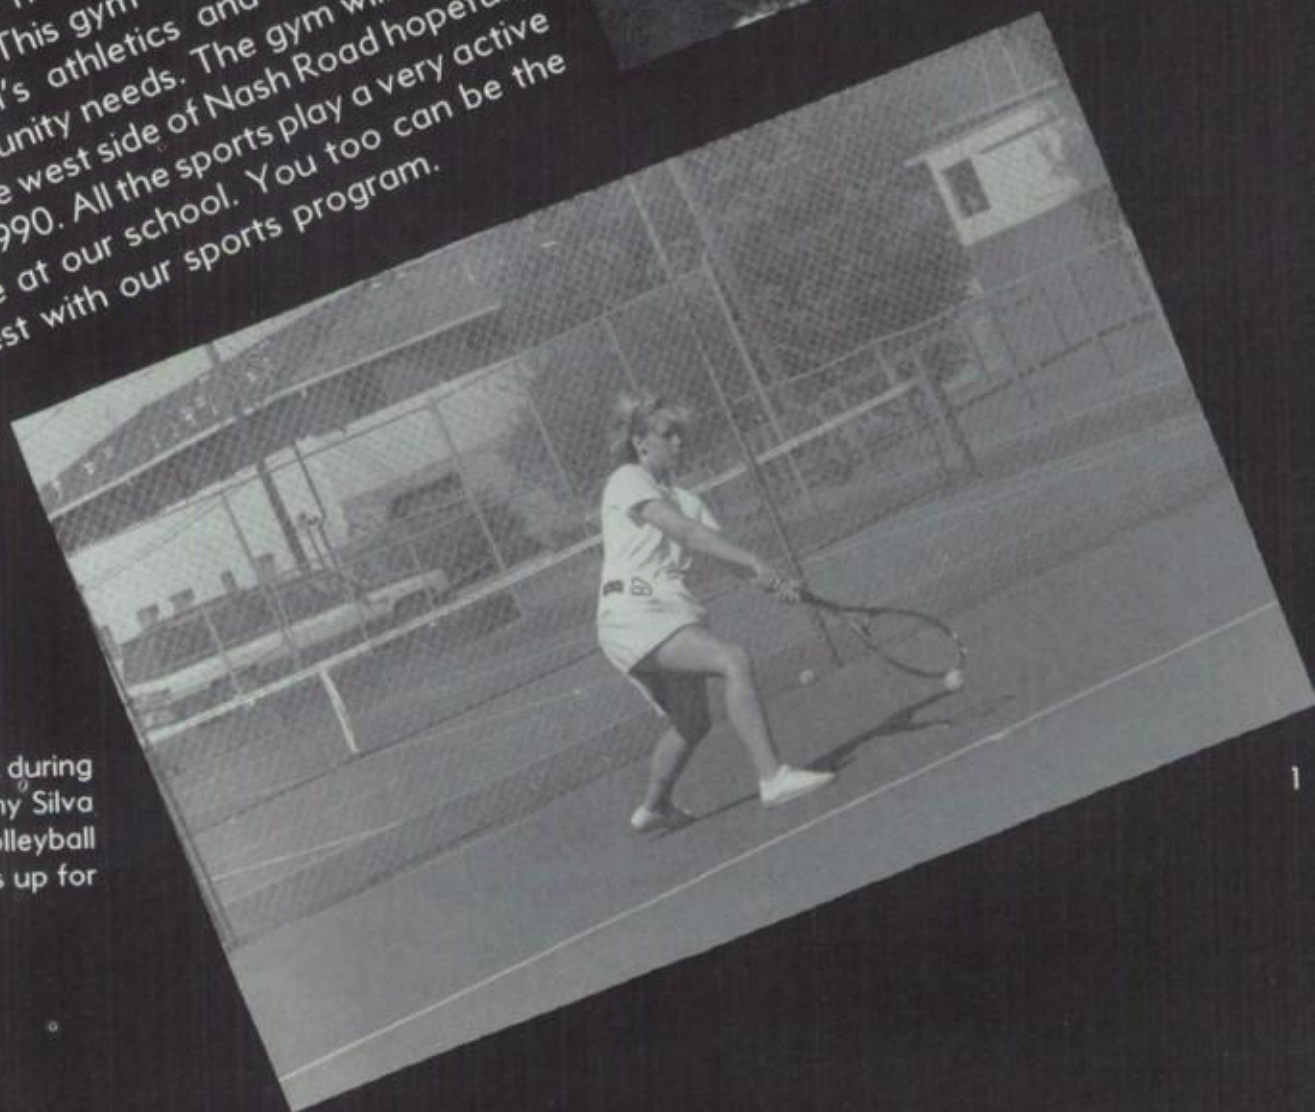

LIFE SKILLS

SPORTS

The Sports program is bigger and better with the growing population of the student body. The budget for athletics is about 71,000 dollars a year. This money is raised by sales of transportation fees, student body activity stamps, locks, towels, donations, and carnival fees. With the ever increasing numbers of the student body, the participation of all sports had risen. The coaches feel badly because now they must make more cuts and limit the size of the teams. One advantage to the increased participation is the amount of talent coming out for the teams. Overall the quality of our teams has risen.

As a result of size and need for a new gym, one has been proposed and approved. This gym will be used for boy's and girl's athletics and for the many community needs. The gym will be built on the west side of Nash Road hopefully by 1990. All the sports play a very active role at our school. You too can be the best with our sports program.

Varsity Quest for Championship

The Quest began on a cold August morning. It was the first day of Baler camp. Spirits were high off last years C.C.S. championship and practices went great. The team went into the Annual M.T.A.L. Jamboree with high hopes and went home a winner for the first time in three years.

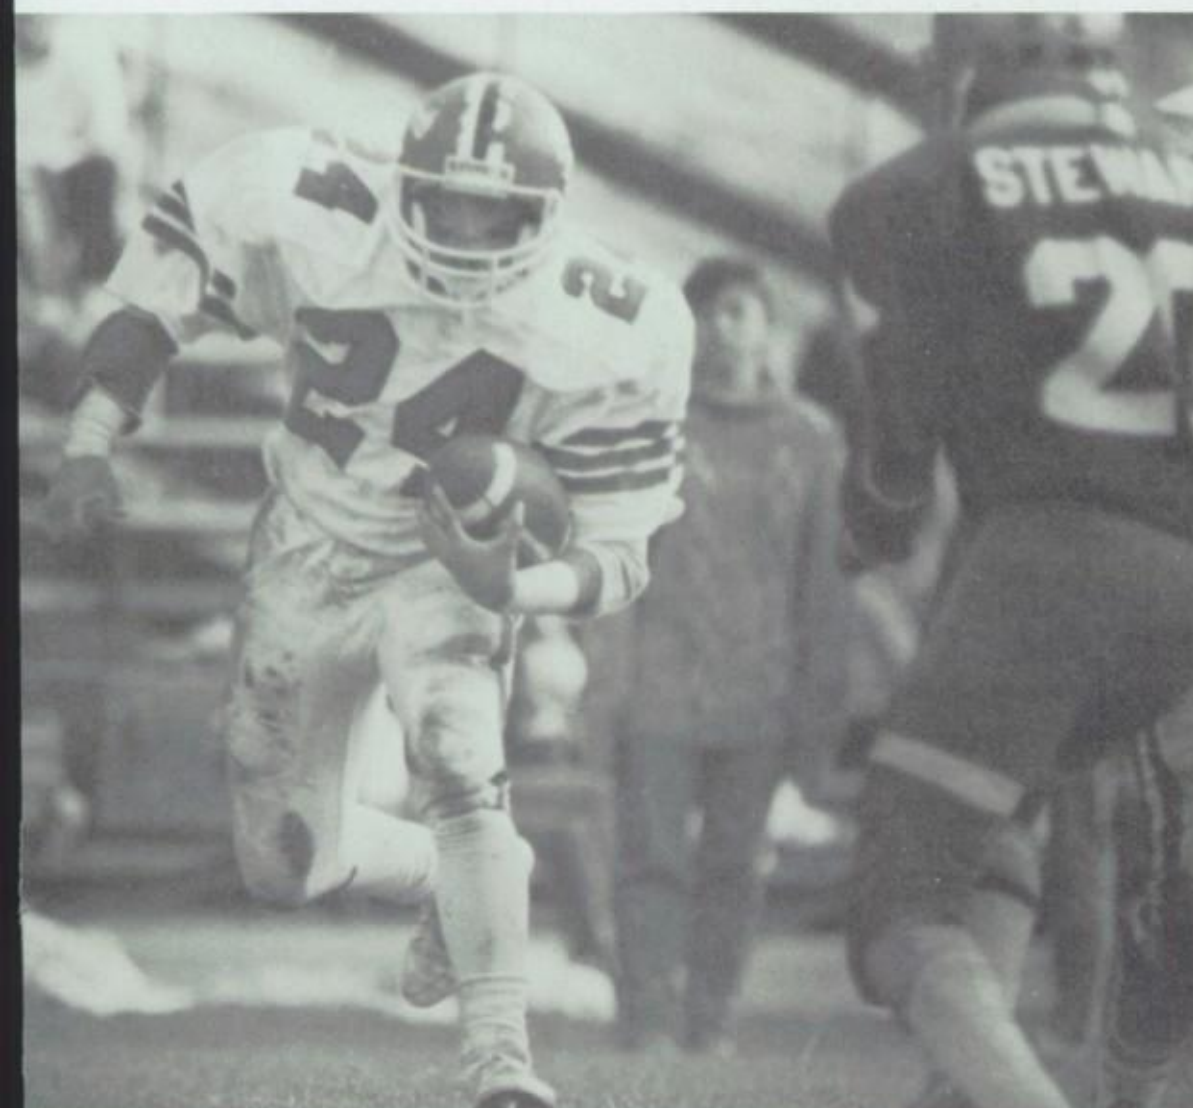

Although the Balers looked strong in the season opener, they fell to Live Oak 27 to 12 and to Gilroy 50 to 28 in their first two games. The Balers regrouped with a tie to Los Banos and a 48 to 0 thrashing of the Alisal Trojans. But the Balers faced another frustrating loss to powerful King City. However, the Balers bounced back once again with a strong win over Carmel, this gave them an agonizing 2-3-1 season record. That left the Balers wondering if they were really a good team. The Balers faced an important game against undefeated R.L.S. without injured senior tailback, Eric Snyder. The Balers came into the game with an inspired and aggressive attitude. After an exhilarating pre-game talk about goals by senior Dave Willette, the Balers responded with an overwhelming 24 to 6 win. This gave the Balers new life. The Balers went into their Homecoming match up, still without Snyder, and took the game with a 42 to 12 victory. The game was highlighted by the All-League connections of Ward to McAbee. The Balers running towards a spot in the playoffs had a three game winning streak. The team arrived at a cold windy Gonzales Spartan stadium and clenched tis second play-off birth with a 23 to 7 win over the hungry Spartans. This also gave the Balers a chance for an M.T.A.L. championship. The Balers had a 5-1 league record going into its second straight M.T.A.L. championship game against the undefeated and defending champions the Palma Chieftans. The Balers fell 24 to 6 in a hard fought loss and second place in league. However the next week the Balers found new life in the C.C.S. playoffs with a 30 to 7 victory over the Soquel Knights. The Balers then went into their second straight C.C.S. championship game and finished the quest with a 21-14 championship victory over North Monterey County.

The Balers did something that not many people have done. — That's win a CCS Championship. Not only did they catch the title in 1985, but also in the previous year, 1984!

The Balers accomplished this with a total team effort and a closeness compared to that of a family. The entire season they struggled to find their identity, and in their final playoff games the Balers not only found their identity, but showed it off by playing some excellent games.

Martin and Sanders Lead J.V.'s to Successful Season

This year's Junior Varsity football team had a very successful season under coaching of Dario Casarina and Ray Maratine. They had a league record of 5-2 and over all record of 6-4. The team played hard throughout the season with the leadership of fullback Cory Sanders and quarterback Tommy Martin. Although the J.V.'s fell one game short of an M.T.A.L. Championship with a 17 to 12 loss to Palma, Coach Casarino said, "I felt real good about the kids! They gave it their all throughout the season." The J.V. team had a good year and should look forward to another positive season next year as the Varsity team.

Stevens and Lopez Lead Exciting Freshman Year

This year's freshman team started out with about 60 people and ended with 20 hard-nose football players. The freshman team did something this year that not many freshman teams in the past have done; they finished with a very promising 4-6 record. They accomplished this with the coaching of Marty Dillon and Tom Stevens. Coach Dillon said, "These are a good group of guys and they look promising for the years to come." The team was led by skilled players such as Phil Stevens and Memo Lopez. Phil Stevens stated, "I had a lot of fun and we should do well next year." This group promises to keep the winning tradition of Hollister High.

Seniors

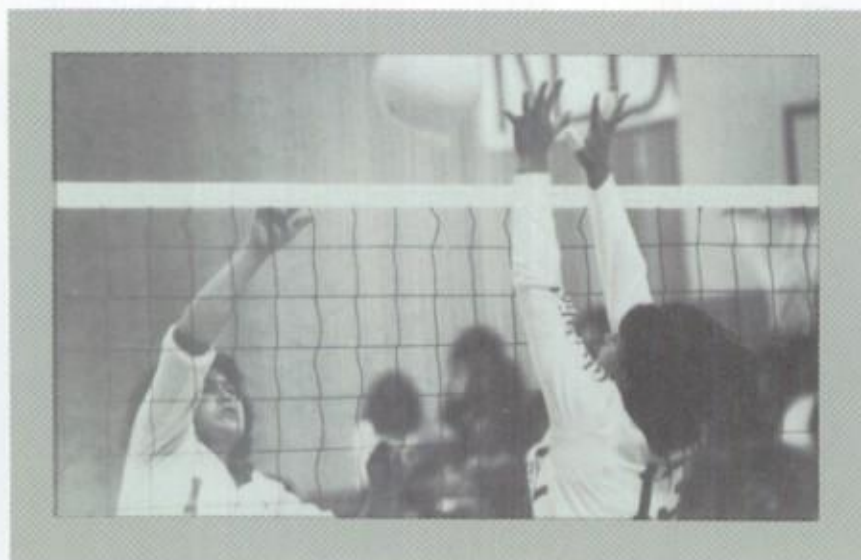

The Baler Volleyball team had its share of ups and downs at the beginning of the 1985 season. "The Volleyball team did very well considering they had three different coaches in three years. Hopefully the girls coming back next year will do as well or better," says co-coaches Linda Barbin and Jackie Vosbrink. Led by five seniors, Tammy Silva, Lynne Brockbank, Brooke Murphy, Georgia Hodges, and Davina Polanco, the Balers made it through the second half of league play with only two losses and a total league record of 7 and 5. This record qualified the team for Central Coast Section playoffs as the MTAL's second place team.

The Baler girls were faced with a rough first round opponent in C.C.S. action. Harbor High School defeated the Balers by winning three consecutive games in the best-of-five match. Even though the girls did not get a chance at bringing home a C.C.S. crown, the underclassmen on the team gained experience that will be a great benefit to next years team.

As for the seniors . . . they gained memories and friendships that will linger in their minds forever.

1985 was an excellent year for Baler Cross Country runners. They went undefeated in league until the illness of Steve Vallejo and after that they received second in MTAL. The Frosh-Soph team won both the Stevenson and Aptos Invitationals.

Varsity team captains were Fabian Gaona for the boys and Marietta De La Cruz as the girls captain. Marietta also took MVP this year. The Most Improved award was given to Yolanda Meza. The Most Valuable Player for the Varsity boys was Steve Vallejo and Most Improved was Robert Gonzales.

Even though the Varsity team is losing four Seniors, Jeff Patterson, George Toledo, Fabian Gaona and Marietta De La Cruz, we're all sure that Cross Country will do just as good or better next year!

Making

The 1985 Baler Girl Swim Team had a new beginning this season. We were introduced to our new coach, Tom Agan, and a volunteer coach, Chris Braun. These two coaches brought with them their talents and experience to give the Baler girls a 4-3-1 record. As sophomore Tajni Hughes exclaims, "They helped us a lot and gave us support. They were also there for us, listened to us, and were our friends — not only our coaches."

There was also a sense of closeness among the swimmers this year. "I thought the season was fun and I made a lot of new friends," said Angela Maxwell. We had our ups and downs but we pulled together to form a team. With that in mind, hard work, and determination, we pulled off many of our best times ever. Sophomore Lavonne Mello pretty much sums it up, "I learned to achieve my goals and I'm looking forward to next year." The years ahead look good for the Baler Girls Swim Team. With the talents we now possess, the future talents waiting to be born, and the attitudes that are needed for a winning team, we shall have a Baler team that carries themselves straight to the top.

Tennis: The Game of Love

TENNIS

This year's tennis team was coached by a new coach, Mr. Bradley. There were a lot of returning players from last year and lots of many great newcomers. This season was extremely competitive and challenging. After long and grueling hours of practice, some of the players were finally recognized. Senior Nancy Frusetta took the "Most Valuable Player" award which she undoubtedly deserved. "It was a great season! I'll really miss not playing on the team next year," she said. Senior Dee Beingessner was awarded with "Most Inspirational". "We had such a great team that I wish the season had lasted all year!" Newcomer Christine Lawson took "Most Valuable". "It was a great experience for a rookie like myself."

Nancy Frusetta went on and took second place in the singles for the MTAL Championships.

This year's team was one of the largest ever, with a total of eighteen players. With all of the underclassmen that participated this year, we can look forward to better seasons in the years to come.

Varsity Has Tough But Improved Year

The 1985-86 Varsity Basketball team struggled; but did have the best season of three years. First-year coach Alfonso Hurtado said, "They did not always have the power but they always had the will." Although the team was six for twenty. They played hard and never gave up. With two 6'4" sophomores Dennis Ross and James Madison and inside men Chopper Snyder, Robin Rodriguez, and Dave Willette the inside game finally worked. Key guard Vance Lee and forward Adam Breen shot very well from the outside. With the outside-inside combination the Balers were tough throughout the season. Senior Earl Whipple said, "We always played tough everyone gave it their all; although our record didn't show it, we played some good games." With several of the team members returning Baler Basketball will be tough for years to come.

JV's HAVE AN UP AND DOWN YEAR

Close, exciting games weren't a scarcity on the J.V. basketball court. This season the team found itself in the middle of several close contests including two overtime wins at home against RLS and Palma. Although the team started out by losing their first five games they bounced back with a seven game winning streak. Matt Carota said, "The big turning point was when we beat Palma at their gym." After some impressive wins the J.V.'s started their ups and downs with some dramatic losses followed by some close wins. The J.V.'s season turned out to be more of a learning experience, which left stand out players like Joe Ravizza and John Delgado looking forward to helping out Varsity next year.

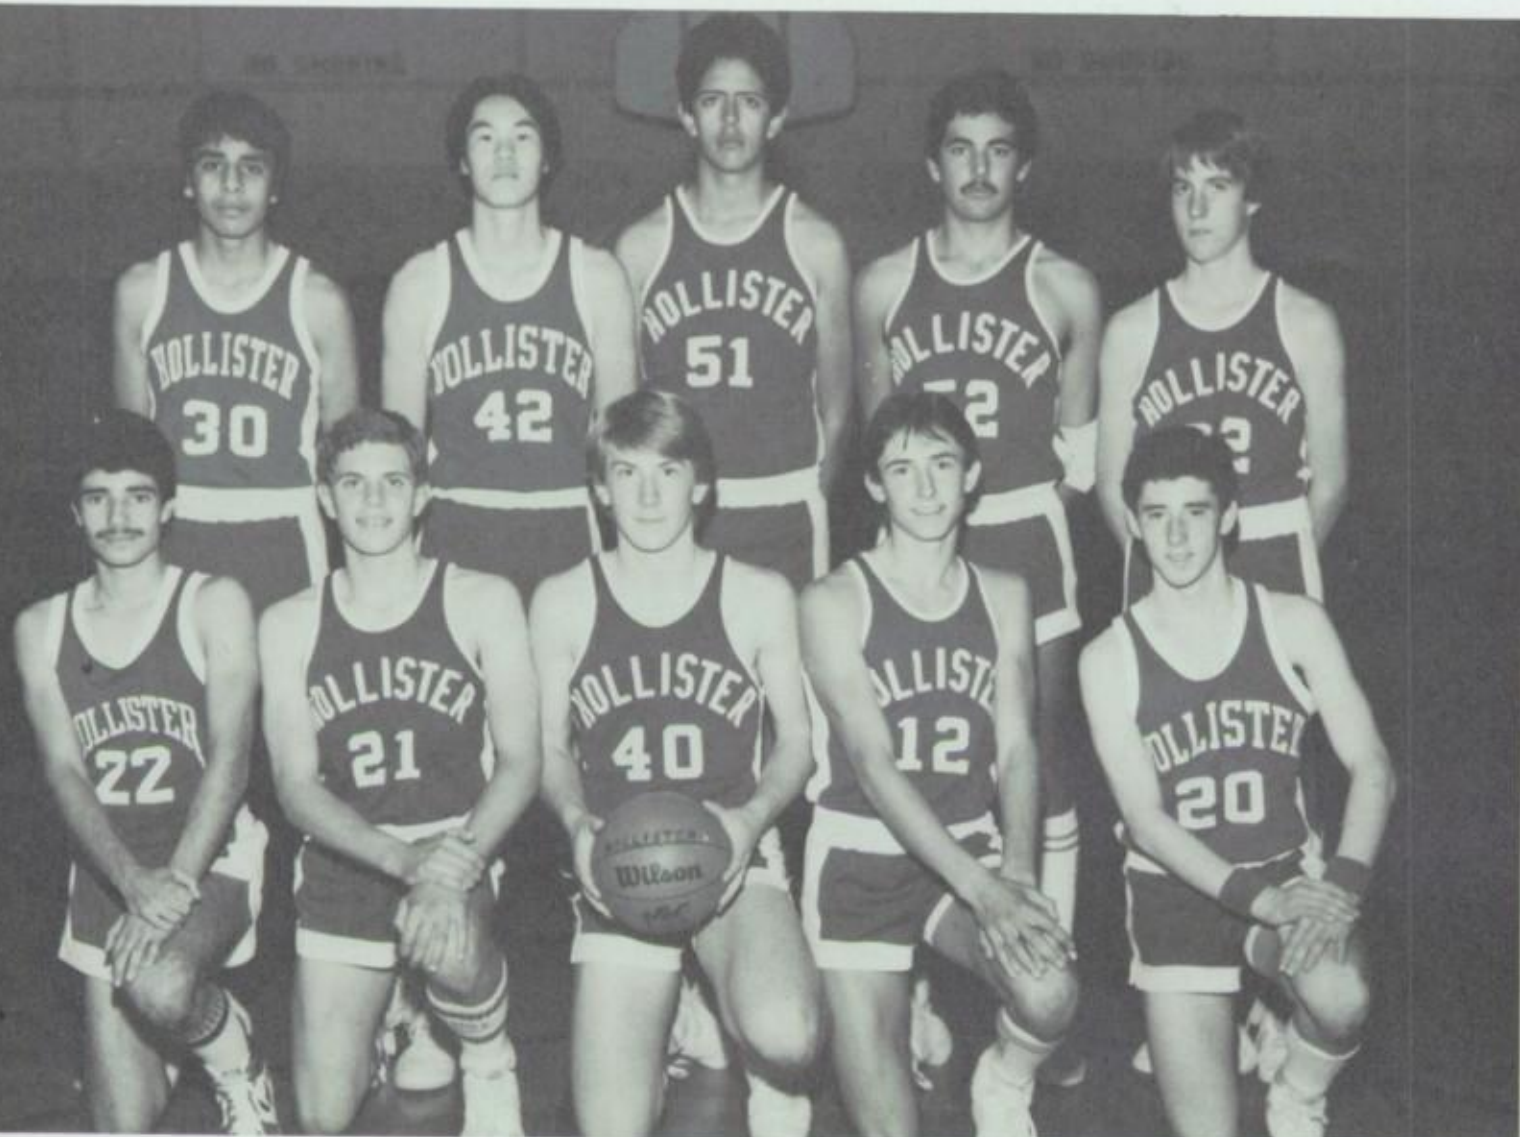

1. Point guard Matt Carota dribbles by an aggressive defender. 2. Team MVP, Joe Ravizza, shoots for two. 3. Lee Hawkins and teammates struggle to get a lost ball.

FRESHMEN HAVE A LEARNING SEASON

This year's Freshman team didn't win many games, but found that they learned a lot about the game and each other. Phil Stevens said, "We learned how to press good and how to get along with each other this season."

The biggest accomplishment of the team this year was that they improved a great deal of their techniques and skills in basketball. Team captain, Matt Guerra, exclaimed, "I enjoy playing. It's my favorite sport." With these new techniques and skills this group of freshmen look very promising and are sure to give us some exciting basketball in the years to come.

MTAL Co-Champions is the title with which this years Girls Varsity Basketball team was crowned. With a lot of hard work, dedication, and spirit to boot, the girls went through their league with an outstanding record of 12 wins and one loss. Not only is this an outstanding record, but adding to this excellence would be the fact of beating the King City Mustangs who haven't been beaten by the Balers since 1981. In regards to the season in general, Junior Guard Rhonda T. Garcia stated that our teams outstanding rank was due to the efforts of each and every team member. The Baler Girls did exceptionally well considering the loss of superstar center, Pamela Tuckness, due to a knee injury in the fifth pre-season game. Senior forward, Mary McCullough, stated that their team made an excellent comeback after losing Pam, and this probably happened since they are such a close-knit team. You had a great season Balers and the Baler student body is proud of you!

Is it a Pretzel? Is it a Twister Game? No, it's the 1986 San Benito Wrestlers. This years wrestling team came in first for the MTAL Championship. Coach Dillon said it was going to be a tough season since there was a lack of wrestlers in the heavy weight division. It didn't seem to alter them any, these guys were designated to be winners! Next to football, wrestling has been the most successful boys sport. It's too bad that they haven't been recognized more for their outstanding achievements. This year's varsity consists of 13 wrestlers, of those, 7 are sophomores. This will benefit the upcoming varsity team more. This year 3 of the varsity players went to the C.C.S. Championships. They were Guillermo Maldonado, Israel Herrera, and Robert Parra. This years wrestling team really needs to be awarded and congratulated for their excellent performances, as well as their outstanding Sportsmanship.

Guillermo is the top wrestler for this years Varsity Wrestling team. He has been wrestling for four years at San Benito. He is a four-time league champ. He wrestled at 107 lbs. his freshman year and then at 122 and 136 in the years following. Last year he was second in C.C.S. and sixth in the state of California. This year Guillermo was first in C.C.S. Championships. Guillermo's trademarks are his cowboy hat and "Stripe", the gremlin which he brings to all his matches and carries in his coat. Guillermo is definitely one of the best wrestlers (if not the best) San Benito High School has ever produced. His astounding record of wins is amazing. At the time this interview was taken his record was 122 wins, 24 losses, and 3 ties. Maldonado is definitely one to be acknowledged for his great accomplishments. Way to Guilla!

"TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALLGAME!!!
TAKE ME OUT TO THE CROWD!!! . . ."

This years varsity team was off to an excellent start with a 3-1 pre-season average. This year they have also moved up to a more competitive league, the MBL. Since they are playing some of the toughest teams around they've had to practice even harder. The varsity's strong points this year are their pitchers which include Robin Rodriguez, John McAbee, and Rafael DeLaCruz. Overall Coach Johnson feels that they have good solid backups and subs. Unfortunately two players were already out early in the season, John McAbee and Brian Ghione. Hopefully this won't alter the teams successfulness in any way.

Balers Swing with Style

This year's golf team has leaped by two of the finest golfers in the central coast section. Seniors Ed Ordonez and Randy Bridge have brought a hard swinging and soft putting style to our 1986 team. The team started off great by winning five of their first seven matches. They hope to continue to do well in their second year in the M.B.L. Other stand out players like Fred Rautman and Scott Freitas hope to add to the team's success.

Getting Better

Rain, rain, rain . . . yes, that's how our spring season started out but as the rain fell, our team never quit, but they just seemed more determined to win. With their very few good workouts prohibited by mud, the team was outstanding in their early season efforts. As the season progressed, Eric Snyder showed that he was ready to defend his MTAL title by breaking the tape in 11.2 and Jeff Patterson showed great determination by leading the way in hurdling with a 42.73 against Gilroy. Frankie Perez showed the form that earned him MVP honors on the 1984 Frosh/Soph team, which only built him up to a fine early season at 23.59 in the 200 meter dash. Frankie said, "We have the best chance this year. I know we can do it."

The personnel this year underwent a new change in the school's curriculum schedule. In-service meetings met every other Monday of the school year to discuss teaching techniques and go over school improvements. During in-service meetings the teachers were taught to use the VRT (Visual Representation of Task). While utilizing these new methods, they could only use one side of the chalkboard because they were informed it would "screw up" the student's brain hemispheres. Mandatory transitions came into effect, in order to stimulate the student's sleepy minds at the beginning of the period. (However, the teachers weren't always successful). The school adopted 22 new teachers this year in hopes of bringing new ideas and modernizing the school. Also, a new board member, Roland Smith, was sworn in. In turn, three of the most experienced teachers in the school are retiring. And Gerri O'Neil, who has been a secretary for 25 years, will be leaving us. Overall, the personnel as a whole, has worked together exceptionally well to help our school stay on its feet.

1. Mr. Williams and Mr. Homen enjoy the Homecoming half-time performance. 2. Corky Rowlette grins as he shows off the T-shirt the girls' swim team awarded him at their banquet. 3. Mr. Fields Will Be Remembered as Moby

When asked about Mr. Fields, affectionately known as Moby, the reaction of students is almost always, "Moby, yeah he's great!"

Mr. Fields has been teaching English and music at Hollister High School for 25 years. That's quite a long time; yet he never got tired of the kids and the things that came with the job. Mr. Fields remembers his early years vividly and is very happy when he hears from a former friend/student. "I have really enjoyed the kids I've worked with and feel very proud to have many of them keep in contact with me; even students from the sixties!" Mr. Fields is one of those special teachers who genuinely cares about his students and their learning. "I tried my best to teach the kids effectively," Mr. Fields said.

Students Succeeding Is Mr. B's Reward

Mr. Breslaur, alias Mr. B., is retiring after 29 years as the chemistry teacher at San Benito High School.

Teaching is a career which is beneficial to the teacher as well as the students, according to Mr. B. "Teaching instructs you and the students at the same time," he said. "As a teacher you learn to encourage the students to do their best and later they will understand why and appreciate you."

Mr. B. enjoys seeing students putting every effort into learning and doing their best.

When Mr. B. sees that, he realizes what teaching is all about — "Students making something of their lives."

We will remember you Mr. B. and all your "Little Flower" jokes.

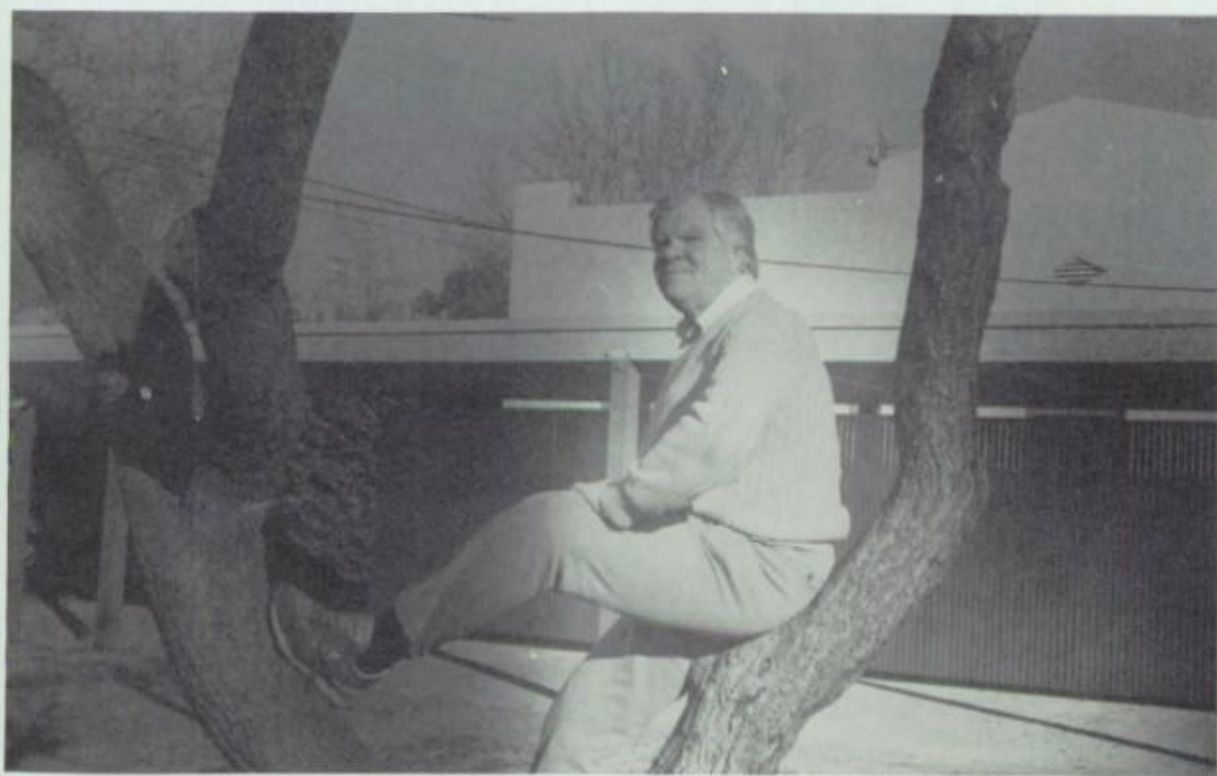

Mr. Casarino Added a Touch of Humor

Mr. Dolph Casarino, one of our most humorous teachers, retired after twenty-six and a half years at San Benito High School. Mr. Casarino is now polishing up his resume to look for another job relating to accounting. In the words of Mr. Casarino, "I'll miss the kids and the school."

When Mr. Casarino decided to become a teacher and come to work at Hollister High School, things weren't all that great. Mr. Casarino described his first week of teaching here in one word — "DISASTER". Things were also very exciting around here, "I should write a book on my experiences here at H.H.S.!" Kathleen Christensen exclaimed, "Mr. Casarino was my favorite teacher; he was funny."

Mrs. O'Neill Leaves Indelible Impression

"It's hard to imagine San Benito High School without Gerri O'Neill. Over the years, students and staff have known her to be a warm, caring person," said Superintendent Secretary Georgia Swope, speaking of Mrs. O'Neill's retirement after 27 years.

"She is a creative secretary who is willing to share her ideas," said Spanish Teacher Juan Robledo.

For the first 21 years she served as secretary for the Ag department and for the past 6 years has shared her skills and talents in the secretarial center.

Encouraging students to be their best has always been a high priority for Mrs. O'Neill.

"She is a gracious lady who has made an indelible impression upon the character of this school," said Student Activity Director Clyde Homen. "Her talents and skills will be greatly missed."

1. A surprised Mr. Casarino is greeted by "Dolly" (a disguised Mr. Breslaur) as they prepare to lead the Homecoming Parade as Grand Marshalls. 2. Mr. Breslaur conducts an experiment for his chemistry class. 3. Mrs. O'Neill always has a cheerful smile to accompany her excellent secretarial skills. 4. After 26 years Mr. Casarino's sense of humor is still going strong. 5. Mr. Fields contemplates his retirement. 6. Reading a novel to his English class is one of Mr. Fields' favorite pastimes.

Freshmen are, in short, a new addition to the school every year. They see the school as a new and exciting way of life.

The class of 1989 is not your average freshman class. These freshmen showed a large amount of spirit and a lack of shyness as they went courageously through their first year of high school. They have proven to be quite capable of finding their way around, and have also proven to be the most social freshman class in a very long time.

They enjoyed themselves at activities like the Freshman Reception, held to welcome them into the school, and the Homecoming Parade, which they whole-heartedly participated in with a very creative float.

Freshmen also showed a great degree of spirit at our rallies, shocking to the entire student body.

Freshmen such as Lynn Wurscher and Becki Nuno were left speechless when asked how they liked being freshmen.

As the year progressed, freshmen showed an amazing amount of personality. They also showed originality on Haloween and Homecoming dress-up days.

We hope all the freshmen at SBJUHS enjoyed their year and will have a blast in their remaining years of high school.

BALERS

Sophomores! What is a sophomore made of? To be truthful, a sophomore has exactly the same ingredients as anyone else. What did you think?

By the end of their second year, students are usually much more confident. They know their way around the school better and have usually made a lot of new friends. They have many things to look forward to and yet have many high school memories. They make the transition from underclassmen to upperclassmen gradually through the year. Then by the time June rolls around the class of '88 is ready to journey on to yet another year of high school but as juniors this time.

Is it fun to be a sophomore? This is a popular question. Liz Carbajal replied, "Yes, it is very fun. It sure is better than being a freshman." And Laura Christensen stated, "I really like being a sophomore." Many students enjoy their second year of high school and that makes it much easier to return the next year.

Whether it's cheering at games or cheering at the end of the year, everyone knows that they need Balers and proud of it. When asked what they thought about their own junior class, Lisa Foronda says, "The junior class is much more active this year. It's definitely improving!" Stormi Hulbut sums up the feelings of most of the junior class with these words, "We dare to be different!" With these spirited attitudes and positive outlooks, the junior class is in a class by itself.

With graduation upon the class of 1986, they found themselves reminiscing over the past four years and the fond memories they hold. As they take that first step into the future, memories that were conceived each year will be taken with them. Those memories were captured in words and were written down to be shared with the remaining student body at SBJUHS.

Linda Beltran — Most Memorable:

"During my Jr. year at the Jr. Sr. Prom. The fact that the Prom started out as an idea and with the help of a bunch of dedicated prom decorators, all our ideas turned into definite success."

Nadine Castaneda — What Will You Remember?

"All the good times I've shared with my friends and the lettergirls."

Sherry Clark — What Will You Remember?

"Graduating. After a long, long wait."

Leti Garcia — Most Memorable:

"When I saw Ray Ramos actually walking with a girl."

Jason Greig — Most Memorable:

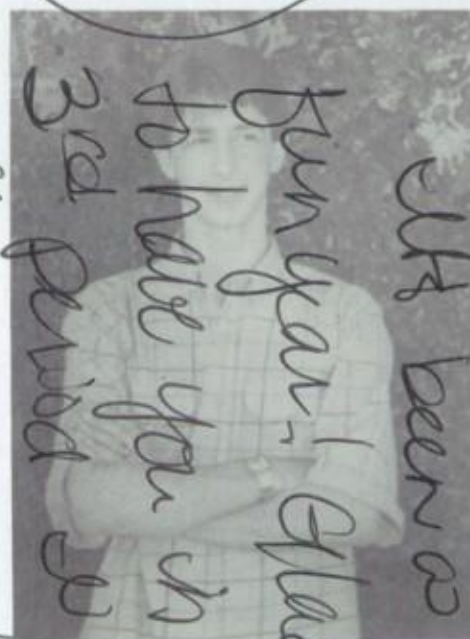

"Selling elevator tickets to freshmen at the beginning of the year, and making some extra cash."

Marci Lamb — What Will You Remember?

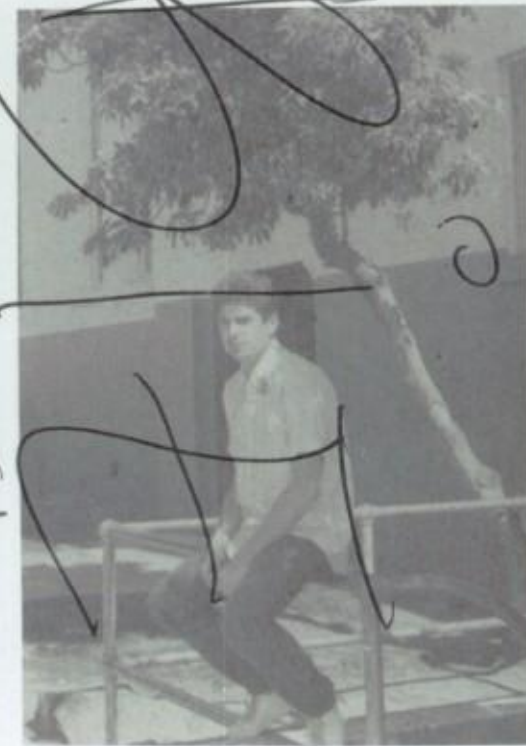

"My friends and the fun we had. Especially attending and decorating the Prom and the Winter Ball."

Laura Flores — What Have You Learned?

"I've learned to voice my feelings, be more assertive, and organize myself better these last two years than the first two years."

Jason Greig; Linda Paulson; Juan Flores; Freddie Lopez and Joey Marquez; Danny Silva; Davina Polanco; Georgia Hodges; Tom Chew; Mary Jo Gonzales; Randy Hutchison; Cathy DeBrito, Michelle Enwald, Rachel Zuniga, Suzette Sarkisian, and Lorena Hurtado; Jeff Ross; Phil Muhilly; 1-9-8-6 Seniors All Right!; Maureen Winn; James Chew; Cathy Smith; Rodney Bianchi and Danette Shields; Kathy Bowe; Sherry Clark; Stina Low.

Philip Levine — What Will You Remember?

"I'll remember the PARTIES!!!"

Vince Luna — Most Memorable:

"I'll remember this year because of a girl I met who I liked a lot. I won't mention her name, but someone calls her "wesser". She is a super athlete and I won't forget her."

Karen Madison — Most Embarrassing:

"I was driving by the high school and I stopped to give my friend a ride; a cop came over and gave me a double-parking ticket in front of the school."

Jeanne Munoz — Most Embarrassing:

"During my junior year my friends caked me on my birthday, and I had to walk to the bathroom with cake on me while people gave me strange looks and laughed."

Ray Ramos — Most Memorable:

"Graduating in 1986 and looking forward to the summer."

As Pomp and Circumstance played in the background, and our hands grasped our diplomas, we remembered the things we did, the fun we had, and the studying we should have done. But most of all, we remembered the friendships we made here in SBJUHS. And now, starting down another path, into the wide, wide world, farewell San Benito High and farewell friends . . . till we meet again.

Lottery wins big

by Linda Paulson

The California Lottery was a major attraction of 1985, as tickets were sold all over the state. Lottery tickets, sold to anyone over 18, are now sold at many stores and businesses. The state legislature approved the lottery, with most of the money from the $1.00 tickets going to help the school systems. There have been so far four separate sets of lottery tickets, with the grand prize for the latest (at press time) being well over $6,000,000.

Halley's Comet Streaks By

by Linda Paulson

Halley's Comet, which only appears once in every 76 years, streaked past the earth this year. It was a once-in-a-lifetime sight for those of us who got to see it. The earliest recorded sighting of the comet was in 240 B.C., as is written in Chinese chronicles. Sir Edmond Halley (which rhymes with "valley"), the man the comet is named after, came along much later in earth's history. But the comet bears his name because he proved that it was actually the same comet that appears every 76 years. The comet could be seen in the months of January and March in the Southeast, in the early morning or dark locations far from city lights. Hopefully, everyone got to see this spectacular sight.

Space Shuttle Tragedy

by Linda Paulson

It was a clear, but very cold January morning. The 25th launch of the space shuttle program was finally underway, after being postponed three times. Aboard the space shuttle Challenger were Francis Scobee, Michael Smith, Ellison Onizuka, Ronald McNair, Gregory Jarvis, Judith Resnik, and a special passenger, a schoolteacher — Christa McAuliffe — was there, to observe space and enjoy the ride.

Tuesday, January 28, 1986, the liftoff began, finally having been cleared by NASA. It rose into the air about ten miles — it was aloft for less than a minute — and television cameras around the world recorded what could be called the greatest mechanical disaster of 1986. The shuttle blew up in a flaming inferno and was no more. Panic and shock spread quickly throughout the nation. What happened? What went wrong? Within one minute, seven people were gone literally from the face of the earth, never to return.

Investigations committees are discovering that it was most likely a problem with a rubber seal, one of three, that prevents the explosive gas from leaking out. The cold weather (below freezing) caused the rubber to become stiffer, and it didn't spring back as it should have. The gas leaked, sparked, and then disaster occurred.

There has been major controversy as to whether NASA officials knew how great the risk they were taking was, or if they knew of a risk. Nothing absolutely definite has been proven at this time, but it is apparent that NASA knows it has made a terrible mistake.

One more question was raised by the disaster — will there be more space shuttle launches and more exploration in the future? At present, through all the mourning, officials are saying "the show must go on."

Disasters Strike in '85

by Linda Paulson

Earthquake! — Fire! — Flood!

These are usually words we don't hear every day, but it seems the reality of them is getting more common. For example:

There were two large earthquakes in February '86, one measuring 5.5 on the Richter scale, in Hollister alone. The 5.5 quake was felt as far north as Redwood City, and caused some damage to homes on the south side of town.

An earthquake also hit Mexico City in late September of '85. This one measured 7.8, and caused many high-rise downtown buildings and apartments to completely collapse. The death toll reached well over 10,000 people. Many of us from Hollister worried about friends and relatives living in or near Mexico City. MECHA club and Club Estudiantil sponsored a car wash to send money to Mexico to aid those who were now left homeless.

Flooding was also a big scare for Californians. All around Northern California, people were evacuated as they watched their homes disappear under water. Excessive rain kept up for nearly two weeks in February, causing rivers to overflow their banks and levees to break. Hollister, by a stroke of luck, was just out of the range of flooding. As far south as Gilroy, where their high school auditorium was damaged, flooding occurred.

World and local news

Students open up to drug counselor

by Stephanie Brengman

For almost two years now, Brian Lippincott has been performing an invaluable service for San Benito High School students. The service is drug and alcohol counseling. And according to group members, he really helps! Shannon Buckles (10) said, "The meetings are really great because we are all friends with the same problems so we can really open up." "It helps me relax," said David Dolfen (11).

There are three groups that he meets with once a week. The first group is the insight group. In this group he counsels students that have drug and alcohol dependencies and he tries to help them kick the habit. The second group is the concerned persons' group where students discuss drug and alcohol problems that friends, relatives, and other loved ones are having. They discuss different ways they might be able to help them. Then there is the after care group, in which past meeters come in and discuss how they are coming along. Brian was involved with drugs during college. He said, "After I received counseling, I decided to become a counselor." He added, "I really enjoy talking to the kids about their problems and helping them out."

Sonja Averil said, "It's a great feeling to know that there is someone here to talk to and who cares."

Get ready for more!

by Stephanie Brengman

The student population at San Benito High School grew immensely this year. Plus, over 150 new students are expected every year for about the next eight years to enroll at SBJUHS. Some students liked the idea of more new people because they want Hollister to become a bigger and better known city. Other students didn't like the idea because they like Hollister the way it is and they think a population increase will make too many changes in the town — which they don't want. Even this year, students noticed some changes. About 21 new teachers were hired to educate the increased student body. Also, some new classrooms were added and additional lockers were installed.

Students Oppose Double Lunch

by Stephanie Brengman

Cindi Flocken thinks, "It's stupid because school is really boring if you can't see your friends." Elaine Arballo agrees, "I think it would be the absolute worst. I like to eat lunch with all my friends." So, what are all these complaints about? They are about the proposed double lunch period which, superintendent Gregory Hearn says, "is inevitable." One of the reasons for the proposal is because of the increased enrollment of new students. Over 150 new students are expected each year, and there were over 1650 enrolled this year alone. Another reason for a double lunch is because of the new buildings expected to be built this summer on the lawn on the West Street side of campus, where many people eat lunch. Mr. Hearn added, "There aren't many alternatives and the double lunch period is the most satisfactory."

"Well, it may be satisfactory to him but we (the students and teachers are the ones who are going to get stuck with the consequences," said Kathy Brookshire. Those consequences are: 1) not being able to eat lunch with friends; 2) not being able to take morning R.O.P. classes at Gavilan College; and 3) problems with club meetings. In an effort to overcome at least one of those problems, Science Teacher Lynne Ellison asked that the school have one day a week with a regular lunch period for club meetings. However the other problems are still there — including the one that has students the angriest, the possibility of not being able to eat lunch with friends. History teacher Don Roy took a poll in early March on the subject and the results were a unanimous "thumbs down" to double lunch period.

This seems to be a very opinionated issue. However students hope by voicing their opinions they will be heard. But for now we will just have to wait until September.

Acknowledgements

Mrs. Wright and Don Smith were the two people who gave me the most help and understanding. I owe them a lot and would like to thank them with all my heart. Especially to Mrs. Wright, who was more of a friend than a teacher.

I would like to thank all the students who put forth their best efforts in the Yearbook class: especially Sue Ravizza who will never want to type again and Stina Low for calming me during my many nervous break-downs. Also to Mark Mooney and Chris Jennings for their help on deadline and for making me laugh constantly. Thanks to Mike Gonzalez and Shannon Nolan, my best team, who didn't let their love life interfere with their work and to Stacy Perrin (my creative genius) and Mary Avila for being top-notch photographers. Special thanks to Dave Willette for knowing and doing it all.

Tenny Gardiner, Dori's Photography, Western Photography, Sam Walsingham, and The Free Lance gave us professional help whenever we needed it, thank you. Also to Gil for cleaning up a room that looked like a hurricane hit it and to Corky for installing all our modern conveniences.

I also appreciate all the Yearbook jokes like the rubber cement "boogers" thrown in my hair. Thanks to Dave DeMaggio who was not in Yearbook but came in on our last deadline and helped out anyway.

And last but definitely not least, thanks to Stephanie Brengman and Vince Garcia . . . good luck next year as editor-in-chief and photo editor, you'll love it.

Editor-in-chief,
Maureen Winn

San Benito High School's first B.L.T. (Baler Lunch Time) was a huge success. Teachers turned Wrestlers entertained a packed crowd of students who gathered in the gym to watch the comic antics of the likes of Amazon Red, the Doctor of Destruction and Madam Mary, the Pinnacle of punishment. Other activities provided by the Positive School Climate Committee included a band in the patio area and presentation of the film, "Rebel Without A Cause."

Stacey,
Well this sure has been one hell of a first year for me. No, actually it wasn't that bad. I'm glad I met you in the beginning of the year. Sorry things didn't really work out, but I had a lot of

Stacey,
 a really nice we'd cool but Met this girl I had for at least 2 classes, too bad they weren't very fun though
 -Don't be a stranger-
 Love, Michelle Perez

Hey Stacey, Woman 😊
 We survived another year - so, now you'll be a SENIOR - great having you in choir - a lot better + I'm glad! 😊
 You've been a great bum -
 Take care and have a GREAT Summer!
 LOVE
 TINA

Stacey: girl
 a real sweet girl
 I met who knows when I start cool &
 try to stay out of trouble we see ya next year. I hope next could be better friends

Stacey:
 A cool girl & not this year's party. Have a cool summer & stay the hell out of trouble. Hope to see you in the fall. Bye for now
 William Bryan the Power

Shady.

to a very weird girl. I met sometime ago.
we got into alot of fights, but we still come as friends. we both have alot of disagreement between each other. too bad we have alot of disagreement. but we always could work it out. I always try to remember the good times not the bad. I'm glad we get along better than last year. it seems lucky that we become closer friends. who knows maybe next year we will be doing things together. like go places and stuff like that.

well anyway I hope you summer days are great. hope to see you in the summer. Good luck with work.

Don't let anyone tell you anything. go with your best judgment not any one else's
OK. Don't forget to mention in the summer

Can you believe next year we are going to be BIG BAD SENIORS!!!! So we better tell all the underclassmen to WATCH OUT! But seriously I am glad to be your friend/sister. I know we have had our rough turns but we also had our good times! We have ~~gone~~ gone along way from the first time I met in 8th grade and we have all changed in looks + in just as in we act (too bad my hand writing + spelling hasn't improved!) I just wanted to tell you if you ever need me you know my phone number.
